Cheesecake not her forte, but this recipe’s a winner

By ALONDRA ALONSO

Although there are scores of recipes in and out of books, there is one that stands out in my eyes as a winner. That recipe is the Cheesecake she made for her mother’s birthday. I was impressed with the results and knew I had to try it myself. So, I decided to give it a try and was not disappointed. The Cheesecake turned out to be a hit and I’ve been making it ever since. It’s a perfect dessert for any occasion, especially for a special person like my mother.

HOMEMAKERS club discusses future plans

By Mrs. Dorothy Wells

The homemaker club met Monday evening at 7:30 in the library of the First Baptist Church to discuss plans for the upcoming season. Mrs. Wells, the club president, reported that the club had decided to hold a bake sale to raise money for the upcoming trip to Florida. The bake sale will be held on Saturday, March 10, from 9 am to 3 pm at the church. All members are expected to participate, and anyone interested in helping with the planning or volunteering their time is encouraged to attend.

Local businesses warned about ‘membership’ scam

By Tom Whaley

Local businesses have been warned about a membership scam that is currently going around the area. The scam involves someone calling and claiming to represent a local business and asking for a membership fee in order to receive certain perks or benefits. The caller then asks for a credit card number, which is then used for fraudulent transactions.

Valentine’s Day at nursing home

By Deidre Novello

The residents at St. Valentine’s Nursing Home had a special Valentine’s Day celebration this year. They were treated to a variety of treats and activities, including a live performance by a local band. The day was filled with joy and laughter, and everyone had a wonderful time celebrating the day of love.

Local businesses warned about 'membership' scam

By Dorothy Matthews

Carthage, Texas — Local businesses are being warned about a scam involving the use of "business cards" that promise memberships in a variety of organizations.

The Carthage Chamber of Commerce is urging businesses to be cautious, saying that the use of such cards has been reported in other areas.

The scam involves the distribution of business cards that claim to offer memberships in organizations such as the American Legion, the Salvation Army, or other groups.

Businesses are asked to verify the legitimacy of the organizations before allowing anyone to join.

Carthage Chamber President John Doe said, "We have received reports of this scam in other areas, and we want to make sure our members are aware of it."

A representative from the Salvation Army said, "We are aware of the scam and have taken steps to prevent it."

The Carthage Chamber of Commerce recommends contacting the organizations directly to verify the legitimacy of the memberships.

East Texas gets short end, says T-Wheeler

By Alan Miler
Washington is an amazing city. After spending so much time here, I find it hard to believe that some people can say it's boring. But then again, I've never been to Texas. I'm sure it's just as exciting as Washington.

The only problem with being in Washington is the traffic. It's like being stuck in a giant brick oven. Luckily, I've got a job that keeps me away from the city most of the time. I work for Congress and I'm on a tight schedule. But when I do have to be here, I try to keep things as simple as possible.

One thing that's different about Washington is the food. It's a bit of a shock at first, but I've grown to love it. I mean, who doesn't love a good hot dog? And the coffee! It's like drinking liquid gold.

But the really cool thing about Washington is the people. They're all so nice and friendly. It's like they all have a secret code that no one else knows.

Anyway, I've got to get back to work. It's been a long day and I'm feeling a bit tired. But I'm looking forward to getting back to my hotel and having a good night's sleep.

No-name community wants small-town tag

By Don Kaylor

Jackie Royal is a Rainbow Girl. She lives in a small town called Bluebird, and she's been working on getting her community the attention it needs. She's been writing letters to the editor, and even doing interviews with the local newspaper.

But it seems like no one is paying attention. Jackie told me that she's been getting a lot of support from her family and friends, but that's about it. She's been trying to get other people to care about Bluebird, but it's been a bit of a struggle.

But Jackie hasn't given up hope. She's planning on doing more interviews and writing more letters. She said that she's even considering running for office in the town council.

I think Jackie's a great person, and I hope that she succeeds in getting Bluebird the recognition it deserves. It's important to have communities that are proud of where they're from, and Bluebird definitely has that.

Tax law sent back

By Tom Kaylor

The Texas legislature has sent back the tax reform bill to the governor for his consideration. The bill was introduced by Senator Mike Perry and sponsored by Representative Dan Huberty.

The bill would have made significant changes to the state's tax system, including reducing the property tax cap and implementing a new sales tax on certain goods and services.

But the governor was not on board with the changes. He said that the bill was too complex and would have a negative impact on the state's economy. He also expressed concern about the bill's impact on local governments.

I think the governor was right to send the bill back. It's important that we make sure that any changes to the tax system are fair and beneficial to all Texans.

Seniors enjoy luncheon

By Tom Kaylor

The annual senior citizen luncheon was held at the city hall yesterday. It was a wonderful event, with a large turnout of attendees.

I had the pleasure of attending the luncheon, and I was impressed by the variety of food and the hospitality of the staff.

But the best part of the event was the opportunity to meet and socialize with the seniors. It was heartwarming to see the joy and appreciation on their faces.

I hope that the city will continue to host these types of events. It's important to recognize and celebrate the contributions of our senior citizens.

Farm Bureau plans activities

The Texas Farm Bureau is planning a series of events to promote agriculture and educate the public about the importance of farmers. The events will take place throughout the state and will feature a variety of speakers and educational programs.

I think it's important that we support our farmers and recognize the vital role they play in our economy. These events will be a great opportunity for people to learn more about agriculture and the people who work hard to feed us.

Lon Morris dubious overtime victor

Ponies have one taken away, 89-87

By TED LEACH

Lon Morris' Ponies had to give away an eight-point lead with just 2.5 seconds left Friday night before Ponies coach Mike Scott could exhale. The Ponies lost to San Augustine, 89-87, in overtime.

On a two-possession lead, the Ponies had to defend the zone and hold the ball in the hands of San Augustine's star point guard. State-ranked San Augustine took a 12-point lead at one point in the game before Ponies' defense stepped in and held the Mustangs to just 36 points in the game. The Mustangs' final shot at the end of regulation hit the rim and was called a foul with 1.5 seconds left on the clock. State-ranked Ponies rallied back to add a 13-point lead to San Augustine's lead at the end of the fourth quarter before the ball was in Scott's hands.

Scott had a shot that went in before the Ponies ran out of time, giving Ponies a point to win. But the Ponies' visiting Ponies fell short of making the shot.

Statement of purpose drafted by ministers

A joyful statement of purpose has been issued by the Panola County Baptist Association. The statement is a part of the new Baptist Association Structure Plan, which has been developed by the Executive Committee of the Association. The statement is to be included in all Baptist Association publications and in all Baptist Association meetings.

Statement of Purpose: Panola County Baptist Association

The Baptist Church is to be, and is made up of true believers in Jesus Christ, united in fellowship and practice in the service of the Lord. It is a church by which the Lord Jesus Christ is worshiped and from which all persons are excluded who are not in fellowship with Him. We deliver a lot more than just NEWSPAPERS

Some publications only think about circulation simply as "numbers." To us, circulation means people! For these people, we deliver the local news and keep them informed about all the things that affect their lives and their future.

We provide them with meaningful features. We amuse them and amaze them, we make them laugh and sometimes we make them cry. We make them think and act. We tell them where the best buys can be found through the ads and we help them sell all kinds of goods and services. We deliver a lot more than just newspapers. We deliver it ALL!

First Things First

"When I look about, I see things that I never knew before. I see how much there is to learn. I see how much there is to do. I see how much I can do, and I see how much I can't do. And I see how much I can do if I just try."

This is the idea behind First Things First. A newsletter that helps you get to the heart of your local community. A newsletter that helps you understand what's going on in your town. And most importantly, a newsletter that helps you make the most of your time.

Top citizen to be named during chamber dinner

Prescription of the Citizen of the Year award and election of officers meeting of the Panola Country Chamber of Commerce were the highlights of a recent meeting of the Panola County Chamber of Commerce. The meeting was held at the Chamber of Commerce Building.

Mayor Carole Baker, a members of the Chamber of Commerce, opened the meeting with a brief address, welcoming the members to the meeting. She said that the Chamber was working hard to bring new businesses to the area and to promote the Chamber's programs.

The meeting included elections for the Board of Directors and officers of the Chamber. The following individuals were elected:

President: Joe Smith
Vice President: Linda Johnson
Secretary-Treasurer: Ted Allen
Board of Directors: Gary Brown, John Miller, and Steve Johnson

After the elections, the Chamber discussed the upcoming events and programs. They also discussed the need for more volunteers to help with the upcoming events.

The meeting concluded with a brief refreshment break and the presentation of the Citizen of the Year award to a member of the Chamber.
