Shiloh Baptist celebrates 116th anniversary

Church may be older; records lost

By Doris Dixon

Shiloh Baptist Church is a very old church located on the southwest side of Carthage, Texas. It is one of the oldest churches in the area and has a lot of history associated with it.

The church was founded in 1881 and has been in continuous operation ever since. It is located on 104th Street, just off of Main Street. The church has a large congregation and is known for its vibrant services and community outreach.

If you are interested in learning more about Shiloh Baptist Church, please contact the church office at 903-573-2371. They would be happy to provide you with more information and answer any questions you may have.

Strength For Living

BY JERRY BURNAMAN

It is a common belief that a positive attitude produces better results than a negative one. This idea is supported by many studies and research, as well as the experiences of many people. However, it is important to remember that a positive attitude does not guarantee success, but it can certainly improve our chances of achieving our goals.

Positive thinking is a powerful tool that can help us overcome obstacles and achieve our goals. When we think positively, we are more likely to see opportunities rather than challenges, and we are more likely to find solutions rather than problems.

In conclusion, a positive attitude can be a powerful force for good in our lives. It can help us to overcome obstacles, achieve our goals, and live happier, more fulfilling lives. So, the next time you find yourself feeling down, try to think positively and see the good in every situation. You never know what amazing things might happen when you approach life with a positive attitude.

Clements still vows to veto tax hikes
State budget battle winding down

The Texas Senate, with its 468-day legislative session at an end, has brought the battle over property tax reform to a close. The state budget, now before the House, is expected to be signed into law by Governor Clements within a few days, ending the legislative session.

The budget deal, which passed both chambers with major changes, includes a freeze on property tax rates, a cap on school spending, and a limit on local government borrowing.

The property tax cap, which was the focus of the legislative session, was proposed by the Governor and supported by both the House and Senate. The cap would limit property tax increases to the rate of inflation, unless voters approve a higher limit in a referendum.

The Governor had threatened to veto the budget without the property tax cap, but after months of negotiations, a compromise was reached that included a freeze on property tax rates and a cap on school spending.

The budget also includes cuts to state spending, including a reduction in the state's contribution to education, which will result in a decrease in local property tax revenue.

The Governor is expected to sign the budget into law this week, ending the legislative session.

Letter to the editor:

Reader opposes bond

Dear Editor,

I am writing to oppose the bond that is currently being discussed. As a member of the community, I believe that the bond is not necessary and will not provide the benefits that it claims.

The bond is proposed to fund various projects, including road improvements and school construction. However, I believe that the benefits of these projects are questionable and that the money could be better spent on other priorities.

For example, the proposed road improvements are not needed because the existing roads are in good condition. The current budget could be used to repair the roads instead, which would provide a more immediate benefit to the community.

As for school construction, I believe that the new schools are not necessary. The current schools are able to accommodate the current student population, and there is no need to construct new schools.

Furthermore, the bond is not transparent. The proposed projects are not clearly outlined, and the community is not being given an opportunity to provide input into the decision-making process.

I urge the city council to consider the alternative options and to consider the community's needs and priorities when deciding on the bond.

Sincerely,

Hornets earn a co-championship

Homer in eighth sinks Carthage, 3-2, in showdown

By Ted Leach

Chisum Hornets had a sound plan for one of the most exciting endings in high school baseball history. Homer in the eighth made it a 3-2 victory for Chisum over Carthage in a tough battle in the eight inning.

The game was played in a rain-soaked field, with the wet conditions making the ball heavier and more difficult to hit. The game was tightly contested, with both teams playing well. The Chisum team was able to hold onto their lead, however, thanks to the clutch hitting of catcher Paul Arthur and pitcher Todd Smith.

By the time the game was over, there were many heroes in Chisum. Catcher Paul Arthur was named the game's MVP, and pitcher Todd Smith was named the game's Most Valuable Player. The game was truly a testament to the skill and dedication of these young athletes.

In the end, the victory was a sweet moment for the Chisum team. The win was a testament to their hard work and dedication, and it was a great day for the Chisum community.

Be A Host Family

A select group of English-speaking home owners from Europe, Asia and America will come to the U.S. to share their culture and language with an American family for a high school year.

Each family will have one or two host children in their home, and they will be paired with an American family of similar age and background.

The children will attend a local school and will participate in American cultural activities, while the host family will provide them with a home away from home.

The program aims to promote cultural exchange and understanding between different cultures.

More information can be found at the KERA website or by contacting the program coordinator directly.

Mother's handwritten cookbook shared

Baker sisters spice cooking with laughter, charm

By Dorothy Herk

Gena and Mary Louise Baker share a love for cooking and a desire to share their recipes with others. They believed that cooking should be an enjoyable experience, not just a task to be completed. Their mother, who handed down her handwritten cookbook, was a big influence on their cooking style.

“Today’s my mother’s cookbook.”

A quick tip through the pages of their cookbook reveals the variety of dishes they enjoy creating. Some recipes are traditional, while others are unique to their family.

I have over a hundred cookbooks, but I don’t cook from them. I read them like novels.

The sisters are known for their warm and welcoming atmosphere in the kitchen. They enjoy cooking together and often share their creations with friends and family.

A "YES" VOTE WILL BE A VOTE FOR OUR CHILDREN

If you are a concerned parent, please support your child and our school by voting "yes" for the proposed bond on May 16.

The bond is for 1.5 million dollars and will be for alleviating space problems at Baker-Koones and Carthage Junior High. The following improvements will be made:

- 18 classroom additions (this will provide the additional space needed for Grades 4 and 5 and will provide space to accommodate the 6th grade which will be moved to this campus.)
- Convert the existing auditorium to a new library facility
- Modify roof framing at the Baker School
- Carpet the new spaces
- Furnishings for the new library
- Relocate administrative area
- Addition of a dry storage room at the J. Louis Robinson Dining Hall
- Provide a new band facility at Carthage Jr. High School
- Convert the existing junior high school band facility to a physical education facility

Taxpayers over age 65 receive Homestead Exemptions on the first $15,000. Also, by State Law, taxes on the homestead of persons over 65 cannot be raised unless the owner makes improvements to the property and then the taxes are "frozen" again. Regardless of the county appraisal, or whether bonds are issued, taxes will remain the same as now on the homesteads of property owners over age 65 with homestead exemptions who have made no major improvements.
