City asks appraiser to check courthouse

After questioning the chairmen of two key committees regarding the courthouse renovation plan, City Manager Charles Thomas has asked for an appraisal of the property. The City Council will hold a special meeting to discuss the matter. In the meantime, the City Manager is working with the properties appraiser to ensure that the appraisal is conducted in a timely and professional manner.

PERSPECTIVES

Editorial

Courthouse is best

There are numerous reasons why the county's approach does not align to the courthouse - a $2,400,000 cost of construction, which was approved by the Board of Commissioners, and a $2,200,000 cost for the courthouse expansion, which was approved by the Panola County Commission.

The courthouse is best because it is:

- A better use of funds
- A safer environment for the public
- A more efficient use of space

By Mrs. Dorothy Willard

Mrs. Louisa Booth, 90, of Carthage, celebrated her 90th birthday with family and friends on Sunday, July 22, at the First Baptist Church in Carthage. The celebration began with a special service at 11 a.m., where members of the church sang "Happy Birthday" to Mrs. Booth. After the service, a large gathering was held in the fellowship hall, where family members and friends celebrated with cake and refreshments. Mrs. Booth was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Jo Ann Williams, and her granddaughter, Mrs. JoAnna Boudreaux. The celebration was a joyous occasion, with everyone coming together to honor this special lady.

The revival will start at the Methodist Church the first week in August. Monday through Friday, service will be about midnight. The church will be open for the week of July 12-17.

Jerry and Bobbi Neumark were at Portland last week. Jerry worked there for one week, both at home now.

Anita and Beulah craft have visitors visiting from Chicago.

Dorothy Luman had surgery at Sherman Hospital Sunday morning. At this time, she is doing very well.

Effie Wilkerson and Bill Gwinn and children of Bevasser Fields went on a picnic. They went to Audra and San Antonio last week for a visit.

Forrest and Vernon Wilkerson and boys spent the day Sunday with mother, Carma Adcock, in Carthage.

Clare Wilkerson is attending Radio Camp at Belknap this week.
