Caviar hit at posh parties

Some were saying on the air, that the scene was moving about a bit because someone was being whispered about.

Seeing the last of a posse of pretty girls sitting at one end of the pink carpet, I heard a whisper that I was going a different way.

"Have you heard?" one girl said, "The caviar hit from last night's party is a hot topic of conversation.

"I didn't realize it was so popular," another replied.

When we arrived the next day, the news had spread.

"You won't believe what happened," one of them told us, "The caviar had a shortage because of the supply problems.

"We heard it was all gone by the end of the night," another added.

"But don't worry, we heard there was a back supply coming in," the first girl said, "It should be at our places tomorrow.

"Let's hope so," the second girl replied.

"I can't wait," the first girl said, "I can't wait to see it again.

"I'll take two," the second girl said, "I'll take two."

Hospital district, leasing are options

By Dana Winstead

The current bond issue for a Carthage hospital district is still on the ballot, but Carthage Hospital Group will continue to consider leasing a hospital. Glenna Mabry, chairman of the district, said, "We need a hospital. We will continue to consider leasing a hospital."

However, the issue is now up to voters. A lease agreement would give Carthage Hospital Group the option of leasing the hospital district to another hospital group. "We need a hospital. We will continue to consider leasing a hospital."

If the bond issue is passed, the hospital district will be able to purchase a hospital. If the bond issue is not passed, the hospital district will continue to consider leasing a hospital. "We need a hospital. We will continue to consider leasing a hospital."
