Prison system gets positive signs

By James W. Hargrave

The Prison System gets positive signs as the Texas Criminal Justice Agency (CVJA) prepares to release its annual report today. The CVJA is responsible for overseeing the state's prison system and ensuring that it meets the needs of the communities it serves.

The report shows a significant reduction in the number of inmates housed in state prisons, from 72,000 in 2016 to 58,000 in 2017. This decrease is largely due to the implementation of a new parole policy that allows for the early release of certain inmates.

In addition, the report highlights improvements in the quality of life for inmates, including increased access to educational and vocational programs, as well as better healthcare services.

Jackets, Waskom vying for berth

ELYSIAN FIELDS -- There are few very good teams in District 2-A. Unfortunately, only two of them are in the playoffs. It's not much of a consolation, though, for the young Jackets, who are 0-6 this season but a game behind Waskom in the race for the third-place berth.

The Yellowjackets of Elysian are coming off a win over Hardin but still have to play the Grizzlies of Gilmer and the Indians of Gladewater. If the Jackets can win one of those games, they may be able to catch Waskom with a win over the Bulldogs.

Waskom, on the other hand, has already clinched its district championship and is now looking to the playoffs. The Bulldogs have won five of their last six games and are currently in fourth place in the district.

The two teams meet on Friday night, with the winner earning the third seed in the playoffs and the loser dropping to fourth. It's a big game for both teams, but especially for Waskom, which needs to win to keep its playoff hopes alive.
