Panic in the stock market: A letter writer argues that panic selling in the stock market is a result of the artificially high prices set by the major stock exchanges. He suggests that the government should intervene to stabilize the market and prevent further erosion of confidence.

To the Editor:

I was disturbed to read the recent article in The Panic in the Stock Market about the problems facing the economy. It seems to me that the government needs to take action to prevent further erosion of confidence and protect the public from inflation.

State would set city liability

Officials go for Amendment 17

By DOUG GRAHAM

The public is being asked to decide whether the state should assume liability for damages caused by city employees. According to Mr. Graham, the amendment would put the burden on the state to defend and pay for any damages awarded to a plaintiff, thus limiting the liability of city employees.

Amendments, referendums included on ballot Tuesday

By DOUG GRAHAM

The ballot for the upcoming election includes several amendments and referendums, including Amendment 17, which would set city liability, and Amendment 19, which would impose a 2% tax on hotel guests. These amendments and referendums are expected to have a significant impact on the local economy and will be closely monitored by the state government.

Detention center proves efficient

Since its opening last June, the Panola County Detention Center has proved to be efficient in handling inmates. As a result, the facility has received positive feedback from both the public and the justice system.

The new center, located in Carthage, has a capacity of 200 inmates and is designed to accommodate the increasing need for secure and efficient detention facilities. The center features modern amenities, including a medical facility, a gym, and a library, which contribute to the well-being of inmates.

One of the significant benefits of the new facility is its ability to keep the local jail population down. By providing a more comfortable and secure environment, the center discourages repeat offenders from returning to the area.

The center also receives high praise from law enforcement officials, who appreciate the improved security and lower incidence of escapes.

In conclusion, the Panola County Detention Center has proven to be a model for efficient and humane detention facilities, setting a standard for other counties to emulate.

Jackets near post-season berth

By Sheryl Coleby

The Panola High School football team proved its dominance with a 21-6 win over the West Panola Panthers on Friday night by playing solid defense and putting points on the scoreboard early.

The Panthers were unable to keep up with the powerful Jacket offense, which put up 21 points in the first half. The defense also played a key role in the victory, holding the Panther offense to just six points.

Decisions, decisions—what to put in the sale?

By Mrs. Corey Woods

Wanda Warren pauses before the display case containing her mother's antique china. The china is a cherished family heirloom, passed down through generations. "It's a part of my family's history," she says, "and I just couldn't bear to part with it."

But like many others preparing for a holiday sale, Mrs. Warren found herself torn between sentiment and practicality. "It's a difficult decision," she admits, "but I know it's what I need to do to make room for the upcoming holiday season."

The sale itself was a success, with many visitors expressing interest in the china. But Mrs. Warren wasn't the only one facing a tough choice. Her friend, Mr. Thomas Williams, was also preparing for a sale, but with a different approach.

Mr. Williams decided to sell off some of his personal belongings, including a classic car and a collection of rare books. "I felt it was time to let go of some of my possessions," he says. "I wanted to make room for new things."

The sale was a hit, with many visitors expressing interest in Mr. Williams' items. "I was surprised at how much interest there was," he says. "I feel like I'm doing the right thing by letting go of these things that no longer serve a purpose in my life."

Both Mrs. Warren and Mr. Williams found that the decision-making process was easier with the help of a professional organizer. "Having someone to help with the decision-making was a huge help," Mrs. Warren says. "They made it easier to let go of things that were no longer needed."

And Mr. Williams agrees. "Having someone to help was a real eye opener," he says. "I realized how much I was holding onto things that I didn't need."

As the holiday season approaches, many of us will be facing similar decisions. Whether it's deciding what to put in a sale or what to let go of, the key is to be honest with yourself and make the decision that is right for you. As Mrs. Warren and Mr. Williams learned, it can be a freeing experience to let go of things that no longer serve a purpose in our lives.
Carthage Book Club enjoys fellowship, program

The Carthage Book Club meets on the second Thursday of each month at 10 a.m. The club draws members from Carthage, Gallatin, and other surrounding areas. Arranged by Mrs. T. L. Sauer, they meet at the homes of members, and each member brings a dish and a donation of books to share.

By Mrs. T. L. Sauer

A book that was read by some of the members, "A Single Man" by Christopher Isherwood, was enjoyed by the attendees. The discussion centered around the themes of love, loss, and self-discovery. Attendees were united in their enjoyment of the novel and its exploration of the human condition.
