JACKSONVILLE, Ark. - Connersville High School's ponies lost 26-18 to the Indians of Arkansas City, 11-6, in the home opener for both teams.

The ponies, who are coached by John Smith, lost their first game of the season. They had played in two previous games, but their first two opponents were not announced. Connersville will play their first home game against the Indians of Arkansas City on Friday, Oct. 11.

The ponies scored their first goal in the second quarter, and then added another in the third. However, Arkansas City scored three goals in the fourth quarter to seal the victory.

Library crusaders ride forth again

By Dorothy Hebert

"The library is to this community what the heart is to the body," said Dorothy Hebert, president of the Maude F. Williams Library Association. "The library provides a necessary service to the community, just as the heart provides life to the body." Hebert, along with other library crusaders, is working tirelessly to ensure that the library remains a vital resource for the community.

The library is more than just a place to borrow books. It is a community center, a place for learning, and a source of inspiration. "The library is the heart of the community," said Hebert. "It provides a place for people to gather, to learn, and to grow." The library is a place where people can find the tools they need to succeed in life.

Hebert and her colleagues are working to ensure that the library remains a viable resource for the community. They are working to secure funding, to improve facilities, and to provide new programs and services. "We are committed to making the library a place where people can find the resources they need," said Hebert. "We are dedicated to ensuring that the library remains a vital resource for the community."
Clergy, lay talents united for service

By Dorothy Henry

Thanksgiving is one of the few times when Americans from all walks of life, regardless of their religious beliefs, come together to give thanks for the blessings they have received. This year, the local church of Causeway, which is a member of the United Methodist Church, held a special service to mark the occasion. The service, which was led by the Rev. T. J. Logan St., Franks, and Franks, focused on the themes of gratitude and humility. The service was well attended, with members of the congregation and guests from other churches coming together to celebrate. The Rev. St. expressed his gratitude for the support and encouragement he has received from his congregation and other members of the community. He emphasized the importance of giving thanks and being humble in our daily lives. The service included a reading from the Bible, a prayer, and a brief homily. The Rev. St. encouraged the congregation to reflect on the blessings they have received and to express gratitude for them. The service was a beautiful reminder of the importance of giving thanks and being humble in our daily lives. The Rev. St. also expressed his gratitude to the many members of the congregation and guests who came together to celebrate Thanksgiving. The Rev. St. concluded his sermon by encouraging the congregation to continue to give thanks and be humble in their daily lives. The service ended with a closing prayer and singing of the hymn "Onward Christian Soldiers."
