City OK’s zoning plan for seniors

By SANDY YOUNG

Cup Commission, or much analogous from local property owners, voted 4-1 to adopt a rezoning plan set by the city’s Planning and Zoning Board and approved the rezoning request of the Oklahoma City Board to retain a portion of the site of the Oklahoma City Board property from single-family to planned development for the construction of a 60-unit senior citizens residence.

As they did at their previous Planning and Zoning Board meetings, several members of the Oklahoma City Board voiced concerns about having the complex located near their property. These concerns included fears of noise, dust, and recreation. However, the property owners, or, in one case, their tenant, responded to these fears.

Wallace Sullivan, building consultant who prepared a program on the subject, said the proposed project is designed to provide a clean, safe, and enjoyable environment for the senior citizens. The 60-unit complex would include 30 one-bedroom units and 30 two-bedroom units. All of these units would be specially designed for the needs of senior citizens. The buildings would be constructed of steel and concrete, and would be equipped with heating and cooling systems.

Two more candidates join campaign for District 10 representative seat

The two candidates for the District 10 seat in the Oklahoma Senate are seeking the support of voters.

Mike Ward has announced his candidacy for the District 10 seat in the Oklahoma Senate.

Ward, a former state senator from Oklahoma City, is running for the seat held by his predecessor, Johnnie B. Cox, who is term-limited. Ward, a Democrat, is seeking to represent the district that includes parts of Oklahoma City, Moore, and Tinker Air Force Base.

Jerry Johnson, a Republican, has also announced his candidacy for the District 10 seat.

Johnson, a former state senator from Oklahoma City, is seeking to represent the district that includes parts of Oklahoma City, Moore, and Tinker Air Force Base.

When asked about the differences between Ward and Johnson, Ward said, "I think both of us have a strong background in education and public service. I believe I have a unique perspective on the issues facing our state, and I am committed to fighting for the needs of the people." Johnson, on the other hand, said, "I am proud to have been a state senator and I am committed to fighting for the people of District 10."

Deer season ends 'big' for these hunters

The deer season ended with a bang last week in Panola County. The season was declared closed by the Department of Natural Resources with the proclamation by the Texas Park and Wildlife Department. The deer season lasted 14 days, and during that time, over 100,000 deer were killed in Panola County. The deer season was open from November 25th to December 9th. The season was closed due to the high number of deer killed, which caused a significant decline in the deer population.

Bulldogs receive awards

The Panola Bulldog football team received several awards last week. The team's quarterback, John Smith, was named the Most Valuable Player for his outstanding performance throughout the season. The team's running back, Joe Johnson, was named the Offensive Player of the Year, and the team's defensive back, Tom Green, was named the Defensive Player of the Year. The team also received the Spirit Award for their enthusiastic support throughout the season.

Brewing honored

The Panola Brewing Company received the prestigious award for its craft beer production. The company's beer, named "Panola Pale Ale," received the gold medal at the International Beer Competition. The company's owner, Bob Johnson, said, "We're thrilled to receive this recognition. It's a testament to the hard work and dedication of our team." The company plans to celebrate the award with a special event at the brewery.

Dogs rally from grave

The Panola College football team overcame a 14-point deficit in the second half to defeat the rival East Texas College, 28-21. The game was held on Saturday, November 19th, at the Panola College Stadium. The winning touchdown was scored by wide receiver John Williams, who caught a 10-yard pass from quarterback Mike Johnson with less than a minute left in the game. The team's victory was significant as it marked the first time in five years that the team had won a game against East Texas College.

Fillies run over San Jac, 75-66

The Panola College women's basketball team dominated the San Jacinto College Jaguars, winning 75-66. The game was held on Tuesday, November 22nd, at the Panola College Arena. The team's star player, Rachel Johnson, scored a career-high 25 points, including 10-11 from behind the three-point line. The team's defense was also crucial in the victory, holding the Jaguars to just 66 points.

Dogs' Debbie Pettus and Glyndell Ingram rebound

The Panola College women's basketball team's Debbie Pettus and Glyndell Ingram were named to the All-Conference Team. Pettus led the team in rebounding with 10.5 rebounds per game, while Ingram was the team's second leading scorer with 13.5 points per game. The team's coach, Coach Mark Wilson, said, "Debbie and Glyndell have been a huge part of our success this season. Their rebounding and scoring have been key to our success."

Ponies fall

By TED LEACH

CARSON CITY — As the Ponies got off to a slow start after scoring 14 points in the first quarter, Travon "Trav" Hodge, 17, was the only player on the field for Carson. The Carson High School football team ended the season with a 29-0 loss to the Ponies Saturday night in Carson City, 67-68. In the end, the Ponies had the upper hand in the state championship game.

Hodge, a senior, scored a touchdown on a 3-yard run in the second quarter. He also had two interceptions in the game. The Ponies had 13 points on the scoreboard by halftime and went on to win by a 29-0 margin.

"The first half was really good," Hodge said. "I think we had a good start and really started the game off strong. We played as a team and worked together as a team. We had a lot of energy and played well as a team.

Heyday of Village Players recalled

By Dorothy Marie Staff Writer

Did you know the Panola Watchman had a theater company in the 1960s? Did you know it was called the Village Players? From '20s to '70s, homefolks trod the boards.

The Village Players were a theater group that performed plays in Panola County. They were known for their talent and dedication to their craft, and they brought a sense of community to the area. The group was started in the 1960s and operated until the late 1970s.

The Village Players performed in various venues, including the Panola Country Club, the Panola County Courthouse, and the Panola High School. They performed a variety of plays, from Shakespearean comedies to modern dramas.

The group was known for its talent and dedication. Many of the performers were also involved in other aspects of the theater community, such as directing and producing. They worked hard to put on high-quality productions, and their efforts were rewarded with enthusiastic audiences and positive reviews.

The heyday of the Village Players was in the 1960s, when the group was at its peak. During this time, they performed a variety of plays, including "The Importance of Being Earnest," "Arms and the Man," and "The Importance of Being Earnest." They also performed many other plays, both classical and modern.

The Village Players were a part of the cultural fabric of Panola County, and their performances were enjoyed by many. They helped to bring the arts to the community and provided a platform for local talent to shine.

The heyday of the Village Players was a time of great pride and accomplishment. Their performances were widely praised, and they helped to establish Panola County as a center for the arts.

Though the Village Players are no longer active, their legacy lives on. Their performances continue to be celebrated, and their influence can be seen in the many talented artists who have come out of Panola County.

Reeders make right choice

By Brent Swope
Special to The Watchman

Rusty and Glenda Reeders run what they call a modern 50-acre ranch just off Highway 79 north of Texon in Panola County.

They have been in this business since 1965 and have been breeding and showing Arabian horses. The Reeders are the only pure breed of horses in the world and it shows, stated Mr. Reeder.

Rusty Reeders is a native of Texas, and Glenda Reeders is a native of California, and they got married in 1964.

"The Arabian horse was developed in the Middle East and was brought to the United States in the early 1800s. The Reeder ranch is located in Panola County, and they have been breeding Arabian horses for over 30 years.

Glenda Reeders is the daughter of a famous Arabian horse breeder.

"These are the most beautiful animals in the world. They are intelligent, gentle, and loyal. They are great as pets and as show horses."

Rusty Reeders is a retired oil field worker who has been breeding Arabian horses for over 20 years.

"We have about 30 horses on the ranch. We have won many awards for our Arabian horses, and we have been featured in several magazines."

"We are very proud of our Arabian horses. They are a part of our family, and we love them very much."

"Many people consider us horse racers. We consider ourselves to be more than just horse breeders."

After working in the oil field for many years, Rusty Reeders decided to start breeding Arabian horses. He has been breeding Arabian horses for over 20 years.

"I have always had a love for animals. I started breeding Arabian horses when I was a child, and I have been breeding them ever since.

"I have won many awards for my Arabian horses, and I have been featured in several magazines."

Glenda Reeders is the daughter of a famous Arabian horse breeder.

"My father was a famous Arabian horse breeder, and I have always loved horses."

"I have been breeding Arabian horses for over 30 years, and I have won many awards for my horses."

"I love my Arabian horses, and they are a big part of my family."
