State line residents want road repaired

By John Coleman

Lions plan June 9 fete

The Carnegie Lions Club will hold its annual election for 1988-89 on Thursday at 10 a.m. in Carnegie City Auditorium as part of the Lions Club International Convention to be held as part of the International Convention of the Lions Clubs International.

James Marshall of Carnegie, the district governor for District 25-B, will head the district organization. Herb Champion will be handing down the job as president in July.

The club is also seeking to fill two board seats, one for the state and one for the national convention. Other officers to be elected include Jim Veit, first vice president; Dr. R. J. Quick, secretary; and Dr. JC Rice, treasurer. Three staff positions will be filled as well: state director, club president and national director.

According to Members, several special guests will be present at the meeting, including District Governor Marshall, who will be a special guest for the meeting.

The club also hosts a number of events, such as the annual dinner, which will be held on June 9. The event will include a wine and cheese reception, a silent auction, a live auction and a dance.

Special recognition will be given to Betty Mee, Longview Home maker who was named last year as the ‘Woman of the Year,’ and also named as the most (emergent) volunteer of the Lions’ Temporary program of the Carnegie County.

Despite Texas shortage, PGH has enough nurses

By John Coleman

Despite the Texas shortage, PGH has enough nurses

The Carnegie Hospital has a shortage of registered nurses, a salary of 12.2 percent in Texas is believed to be one of the major reasons for the shortage, according to Dr. J. D. Rice, president of the hospital.

The Texas Hospital Association released a report Monday morning stating the average salary for nurses in Texas was $22,000 per year, compared to $24,000 in Pennsylvania.

"We are as fortunate as the other hospitals in the area," Rice said. "We have been able to maintain our salaries at a competitive level."

State has enough money for budget

By Larry Whitney

No state is having more money from the federal government than Texas. In fact, Texas has received more federal money in the last six months than any other state. The state has received a total of $23 billion in federal funds, which is about $4 billion more than the next state, California. This is a significant amount of money, and it is helping to finance the state budget. The Texas Senate has approved a budget that includes $23 billion in new spending. This budget is expected to be signed into law by Governor Rick Perry. The budget includes funding for education, healthcare, and infrastructure. The state is also planning to increase its investment in renewable energy. Overall, this is a positive development for Texas, and it is expected to benefit the state's economy in the long run.

Harris Chapel writer tells of trip to Tatum

By Mrs. Denny Woods

On Tuesday morning about 12:30 at the peak of the sky, we left home. The sky was gray and gloomy and the wind was howling. The car was groaning under the weight of the luggage. The windows were rolled up to keep out the wind and the smell of the luggage. The radio was turned up to the highest setting to drown out the noise of the wind. The car was loaded with three suitcases, two duffel bags, and a backpack.

Mrs. Woods' familiar landmarks disappearing rapidly

By Mrs. Denny Woods

We are now on our way to Tatum. The view is spectacular. The mountains are towering above us. The river is flowing peacefully. The air is fresh and cool. We are excited to be here.
