DPS predicts 36 traffic deaths during July holiday weekend

John C. Lindquist, M.D., president of the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, said on Wednesday that the department of public safety (DPS) is predicting 36 traffic deaths in the state during its July holiday weekend.

"The state is on pace to have the highest death toll in over 20 years," Lindquist said. "The department of public safety's estimated death toll for the July holiday weekend is 36, which is the highest death toll in over 20 years. This is due to increased alcohol consumption and impaired driving on our roads throughout the state."
Texas GOP handed nice opportunity

By Lynn Elliott

Washington, D.C. — The Texas Republican Party was dealt a nice opportunity last week when the U.S. Senate confirmed Senator Orrin Hatch (R-Utah) as the new Senate שר för. This move comes at a critical time for the GOP, as they look to build on their momentum from the 2010 midterm elections.

Hatch, who is retiring at the end of this year, has been a key figure in Republican politics for decades. He was first elected to the Senate in 1976 and has served ever since. During his tenure, Hatch has been a strong advocate for conservative policies and has played a key role in shaping Republican strategy.

The new Senate sheriff will bring a fresh perspective to the chamber, as he replaces John Barrasso (R-Wyo.) who had been the Senate's top Republican for the past four years. Hatch is expected to be a more hands-on leader than his predecessor, and his experience and expertise will be valuable assets for the GOP moving forward.

The confirmation of Hatch as Senate sheriff is a sign of the growing confidence of the Republican party. The GOP has been on the rise in recent elections, and this win is likely to fuel their momentum.

Hatch is expected to bring a strong conservative agenda to the Senate, focusing on issues such as fiscal restraint, limited government, and individual liberties. He has a strong record of supporting free markets and limited government.

The confirmation of Hatch as Senate sheriff is a win for the Republican party. It is a sign of their growing confidence and their ability to win important battles in Congress. The GOP is poised to continue their momentum in the coming years, and Hatch will be a key figure in their success.

Med: Cataracts are a serious illness. They can cause blindness if not treated. It's very important to see an ophthalmologist for a regular check-up. If you have any symptoms, such as blurry vision or pain in your eyes, you should see a doctor right away.

There are two different types of laser eye surgery: PRK and LASIK. Both are safe and effective, but PRK is a more conservative option. PRK is less invasive and has a shorter recovery time. LASIK is a more aggressive procedure, but it can correct more severe vision problems.

It's a good idea to talk to your doctor about your options. They can help you decide which procedure is best for you.

Ham radio operators test ability to cope
‘Operation Cow Pasture’ simulates emergency

By Dorothy Marble

On Saturday, May 28, the Ham Radio Operators of Panola County, Texas, held their annual "Operation Cow Pasture," a simulation of an emergency in which they test their ability to communicate during a crisis.

In an emergency, most of us could work right from our homes, several members have emergency power at the house.

The atv, once used to the ham radio equipment, has the capability of being used as a "bomber" station. Anytime a member is simplex, the transmitter is not working, the station is down, the ham radio operator needs to know what is going on at a ham radio operator's station.

If a station is simplex, the transmitter is not working, the station is down, the ham radio operator needs to know what is going on at a ham radio operator's station.

Ham radio operator Grady Kyle works at 'emergence' station set up in cow pastures.

How to become a ham operator

If you are interested in becoming a ham operator, be sure to check with your local ham radio club or contact your local ham radio club. They have regular meetings and are always looking for new members.
