PGH to return to ER contract

By John Coleman
Post News Editor
Pittsburgh General Hospital's Board of Managers voted Thursday night to spend an extra $10,000 per month to return the hospital's emergency room service on a contra-trol basis. The board decided to allow emergency room physicians to also practice their specialty at the hospital. The new agreement is a compromise between the hospital and the ER physicians, and was approved by the Board of Managers.

Hospital disaster drill a success

By John Coleman
Post News Editor
The group of patients that had participated in a fire drill at the hospital's medical center on Tuesday had a wet and successful drill. According to Dr. Richard Singer, who was present for the event, the drill was a success. "The patients were very cooperative and the drill went very smoothly," he said.

Work on U.S. 87 overpasses begins

Surveying began last week to grade the land area that will become part of the U.S. 87 overpasses project at the Highway 65 interchange with the loop in Corinth. According to a spokesman for the highway department, the surveying is expected to take 2 to 3 months, and will be completed in time for construction to begin.

The data collected during the surveying will be used to design the overpasses and to determine the best location for the new interchange.

The project, which is expected to cost $10 million, will consist of two overpasses and a new interchange, and is scheduled to be completed by the end of 1987.

The Panola Watchman
Strength For Living

BY JERRY BURKHAM

Recovery is the key to many people's life journeys. A few years ago I had the privilege of meeting a woman who had finished a 12-step program for addiction. She was in tears and told me how she had learned to live without the drugs that had controlled her life for so long. She shared that she now had a support network of people who were there for her, and that she had found peace and serenity in her new life. She said that she had also learned to forgive herself for the mistakes she had made in the past.

The theme of recovery is one that is often overlooked in our society. Many people struggle with addiction, mental health issues, and other problems that can make their lives feel like a never-ending battle. But for those who are willing to seek help and find support, there is hope. Recovery is not easy, but it is possible. With the right resources and support, anyone can find their way back to a healthy and fulfilling life.
