Day care celebrates 10th anniversary

By Sharon Crochet

What started out as a one woman operation in 1995 has grown into a major day care center in the city. "As the demand increased, so did the staff," said owner Carol Lee. "We now have 16 staff members and serve 60 children a day."

Lee, in charge of Park and Jill Child Care Center, located at 2111 S. 11th St., said it all started with the vision of local residents and the support of the community. "It was a family affair," she said. "My two daughters, Julie and Jill, helped me get the center started."

The center is celebrating its 10th anniversary this week and is planning a special event on Saturday to commemorate the milestone. "We will have a open house and a children's craft fair," said Lee. "It's going to be a great way to celebrate with the community."

The center offers care for children ages 18 months to 12 years old. "We provide a safe and nurturing environment for all children," said Lee. "Our goal is to help children develop socially, emotionally, and intellectually."

Redistricting stirs political pot

By spaul Williams

Texas lawmakers are making sure that redistricting kept alive. But even if the Texas House or Senate draws the maps that will determine the boundaries of the congressional districts in the state, the Texas Supreme Court is expected to declare them unconstitutional. The court has already ruled that redistricting maps must be drawn by a commission formed by the Legislature.

Commissioners plan to use the map redrafted by the House or Senate to determine what districts are unconstitutional. The maps will then be sent to the court, which will rule on the matter. The court has already ruled that redistricting maps must be drawn by a commission formed by the Legislature.

In other news, the Texas Senate has passed a bill that would allow the Legislature to redraft the maps. The bill is expected to be signed by the governor.

Financially, the Texas House has passed a bill that would allow the Legislature to redraft the maps. The bill is expected to be signed by the governor.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
ON TAX INCREASE

The Carthage Independent School District will hold a public hearing on a proposed increase in the District's ad valorem property tax rate on Thursday, August 19, 2021, at 7:00 P.M. in the Carthage ISD Administration Building, 300 W. Main St., Carthage, Texas 75633.

The public hearing will be held as follows: on Wednesday, August 11, 2021, at Carthage ISD Administration Building,

Hi, my name is Johnnie Williams. I'm a Board of Trustees member for the Carthage Independent School District. I'm here today to discuss the proposed increase in the District's ad valorem property tax rate.

The statement above shows the percentage increase proposed by the Board of Trustees. The following table compares last year's tax rate against this year's tax rate.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Last Year</th>
<th>This Year</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Average home value</td>
<td>$105,581</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Average taxable value</td>
<td>$11,187</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tax rate</td>
<td>1.9%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Total property taxes</td>
<td>$4,184</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Under this proposed tax rate, the average home value would increase by 27.5% or $29,824, with an increase in property taxes of $4,184 compared to last year's taxes.

In line with the state tax code, if the district needs additional revenue to provide a safe and secure environment for our students, the proposed tax rate will be necessary.

If you have any questions or concerns about the proposed tax rate, please contact me, Johnnie Williams, at 903-694-5000 or by email at johnnie.williams@carthageisd.org.

Thank you for your support and understanding.

Goree snuffs rally as Texans win

By Ted Leach
TEXAS A&M — Texas A&Mullaquo libero with Mississippi State — run it hang by the laurel, fragrant and free, the last thing the Bulldogs expected to happen. But when it happened, they were left struggling against the day's other two losses.

Mississippi State, led by sophomore pitcher Mike Goree, subdued the Aggies 7-3 Sunday afternoon.

Goree, who was only 2-3 in the past eight games, came up with a rarity in Big 12 play: a complete game. He allowed six hits, walked six and fanned one. Mike's anti-gravity moment came in the third inning when Texas A&M's Todd Pugh hit a double and made it to third.

Goree allowed a walk on the next pitch and Texas A&M's first baseman, Dave Kimberlin, couldn't make the play on the throw, allowing Pugh to score. Goree then retired the next batter, ending the inning.

Texas A&M tied the game in the fourth when John Fagan hit a two-out double, drove in Pugh and tied the game at 3. But Goree shut out the Aggies in the fifth and sixth innings.

Goree's best inning came in the seventh when he struck out Aggie cleanup batter Jimmie Runyan and got two more groundouts to end the inning.

Goree's career-high seven innings allowed Pugh to score one more time in the ninth, but Texas A&M's Jeremy Weir hit a two-run homer to put the Aggies up 7-4.

Goree's eight-pitch 1-2-3 ninth earned him the save, despite the fact that he allowed one of the runs.

Mississippi State's first run came in the second inning when Goree hit a solo home run. Mississippi State's only other hit came in the second inning when Mississippi State's Mark Young hit a solo home run. First Things First

On the TV show 'Tommy Tune' Alka was trying to amuse the children with an old-fashioned toy. He was using a traditional hula hoop, which is a plastic hoop that is used for dance and exercise. The hoop spins around the neck and is often used in fitness classes. Alka seemed excited to show the children how to use the hoop, but he was having trouble keeping it on his neck. The children were laughing at his struggles, and Alka was trying to maintain his cool. He eventually managed to keep the hoop on his neck and was able to perform some basic tricks.
