Six to ten inches reported
Drought broken with heavy rain

By John Coleman
Post News Editor

William H. Stowe, a farmer at Murual, said the news he had heard this morning that Texas will be receiving six to ten inches of rain" was verified by the cloud cover that came up this morning. Stowe said he was not surprised by the news, and that he had been looking forward to it for some time. He said that the rain would be beneficial to the crops, and that he was confident that the weather would continue to be favorable. He encouraged others to continue to monitor the weather conditions and take necessary precautions to protect their crops.

Water board to seek advice on moss problem at Murual

By Sheryl Otway
Staff Writer

The Lake County Water Board met Tuesday evening to discuss the ongoing problem of moss on the lake. The board decided to seek advice from an expert on how to deal with the moss and make it less noticeable to the west shore of Lake Murual.

The current treatment involves the use of environmentally friendly herbicides to kill the moss. However, the board was concerned about the long-term effectiveness of the treatment. The board also discussed the possibility of using a mechanical method to remove the moss, but decided that it was not a viable option due to the cost and time required.

The board also discussed the possibility of using a biological method to control the moss. This method involves the use of microorganisms that can break down the moss and reduce its growth. The board decided to investigate this option further and make a decision on the best course of action.

Joe Robison, president of the Lake Murual Association, said that he appreciated the efforts of the board and agreed that it was important to find a long-term solution to the moss problem. He also expressed concern about the impact of the moss on the lake's environment and suggested that the board consider the environmental implications of any treatment plan.

The board agreed to continue to monitor the moss problem and seek advice from experts to determine the best course of action. They also encouraged residents to provide feedback on their experiences with the current treatment and to help the board make informed decisions.

The rest of the story?

Dear Editor:

I mentioned a great story in the paper on August 5. The topic was the failure of Social Security. I would like to know more about this story. What is the plan to fix this problem? What are the expected outcomes of the proposed solutions?

Sincerely,

To our valued customers:

On August 3, 1988, in this paper, a rather sad and distorted story was printed, following a press release by the Texas Department of Agriculture. Those of you who have known us as customers and friends, over the years know that it has never been our practice to cheat, mislead, misrepresent, or otherwise abuse the faith and trust you have placed in us and our operation. The pumps in question were out of calibration and we apologize for such having happened. It happens to every operator and why we were singled out for a public smear in the form of a distorted press release is only something we can guess.

We would like you, our customer, to consider this:

The seals from the prior inspection by the same inspector were still on the pumps when he inspected them this time—this shows that we did not purposely break the seals to change the calibration.

The incident happened on April 7, 1988, not April 8, 1988.

Not all of the pumps at that location were out of calibration.

Only one pump was off by the stated amount—the other pumps were well under that figure.

The pumps were checked for accuracy on February 1, 1988—therefore TDA’s assumption of a year $1.00 per gallon error is incorrect.

The same inspector found ALL OF THE PUMPS at our other location in town to be “giving away” gas to our customers to degree far greater than the one quoted in the press release.

The company official pleaded “no contest” only to save her company AND the taxpayers costly legal bills.

Over all of the years in this business this company has enjoyed a perfect relationship with the TDA (as stated by the inspector’s superior).

This is not intended to excuse the pump inaccuracies, but it is to show you that it was not willfully or intentionally done to reap excess profits. We will be happy to visit with any of you at our office in Carthage should you have any questions.

Strength For Living

By Jerry Burnaman

Strength for living is a personal challenge that we all face. It takes courage to face our fears and work to overcome them. But with determination and perseverance, we can become stronger and more resilient.

At other times, it seems like a never-ending battle to be strong. But this is not the case. We can learn to be strong by following a simple three-step plan:

1. Set small goals for yourself. These goals should be achievable and should help you to build confidence.
2. Celebrate your successes. This will help to reinforce positive behaviors and encourage you to continue working towards your goals.
3. Be patient and persistent. It takes time to achieve your goals, so be patient and don't give up.

We must also remember that strength is not just a physical attribute, but also a mental and emotional one. We must work to develop our minds and emotions to become stronger, too.
