Pensacola News Journal

A traffic stop turns violent Wednesday morning, resulting in the arrest of a man who allegedly shot at a highway patrol unit.

At approximately 6:45 a.m., Trooper Kenneth R. Poole, 33, of Pensa-cola, was leading a highway patrol unit consisting of Trooper Travis James Green, 35, of Mobile, AL, and Trooper William D. Gaither, 33, of Mobile, AL. The group was on patrol on U.S. 69 near the intersection with 13 Mile Road. The driver of the suspect vehicle was identified as Luke C. Mardell, 27, of Tallahassee.

According to Green, a suspect vehicle had approached the highway patrol unit on U.S. 69 near the intersection with 13 Mile Road. The driver of the suspect vehicle was identified as Luke C. Mardell, 27, of Tallahassee.

Mardell refused to pull over and, after an estimated five miles of pursuit, Green fired several shots at the suspect vehicle, hitting the driver in the head. The suspect then exited the vehicle and was arrested.

The suspect, identified as Luke C. Mardell, 27, of Tallahassee, was taken into custody without further incident.

According to David Ross, a passenger who was in the car with Mardell, he was pulled over by Trooper Green and told to get out of the car. Ross said he did as he was told and was taken into custody.

He was then put in the back seat of the car and taken to jail. It was later discovered that the driver of the car was actually a suspect in a separate case.

The incident occurred at approximately 8:30 a.m. on U.S. 69 between the Ochlocknee and Barracuto exits. The driver was identified as Matthew J. Kelly, 23, of Panama City.

The cause of death was determined to be a single gunshot wound to the head.

The victim, Matthew J. Kelly, 23, of Panama City, was pronounced deceased at the scene. The investigation is ongoing.

PERSPECTIVES

Bittersweetness of knowing in part ligners

In the white business suit, with his eyes fixed on his electronic wristwatch, he was the epitome of the successful corporate executive. But to those around him, he was merely one more face in the crowd, trying to make sense of the world around him.

"I don't know if I have the answers," he admitted to a group of local business leaders during a recent breakfast meeting. "I'm just trying to make decisions based on the best information available to me."

The businessman, who requested anonymity, said he felt pressure from all sides to perform at a high level, but he also acknowledged the importance of maintaining a balance between personal and professional life.

"I try to spend time with my family and friends," he said. "I believe that's important for staying focused and maintaining a sense of perspective."

The businessman also spoke about the challenges of navigating the complex landscape of modern business, particularly in the face of rapidly changing technology and economic conditions.

"It's hard to keep up," he said. "I feel like I'm always working to stay ahead of the curve."

At 78, preacher still going strong in pulpit

Reverend Dudley Stewart Jr.

Stewart, who has been serving the community for 55 years, says he enjoys being there to help people.

"I've been a door-to-door type preacher all my life. You don't build a church sitting at a desk. I have to be active."

E. L. Jones

Jones says he has seen the church grow from a small group of people to a large congregation.

"I'll never quit," he says. "I'm not going to let the church die. I want to see it grow and prosper."
