It's a growth, not a monster

Water board battles hydridla

By Sharyn Corby

Members of the Panola County Farm Housewives No. 1, concerning with an aquatic growth problem, asked the county board to consider several aspects of an effertive aquatic program, including a Texas A&M professor who wants to use the lake as a research project.

At the board’s regularly scheduled meeting Tuesday (1), member Claudia Thomas said he had heard from Dr. Joe Smith of the Texas A&M University and the advice he had given on the lake as a research project, dealing with the aquatic problem, was a good one.

However, Thomas also told board members that if the county could get a permit from the state, a permit from the Texas A&M professor and if the board could get someone to do the work, they could have a good project.

"The university is eager to get started. They would start tomorrow," Thomas said.

"In the meantime, we are going to continue our efforts," Thomas said.

"We’re going to do whatever we can and see what happens," Thomas said.

"We all agree," Thomas said. "We have a problem and we need to do something about it."

Still, no Jack Kennedy

Lincoln D. Barnett, Jr. is a generator of frankness, and this week he has produced some genuine April Foolery. The subject of his ire was Jack Kennedy. "Jack Kennedy," he writes, "is the greatest thing that ever happened to the State of Texas."

Barnett's views are well known by all those who have heard him speak. He is a man of many words, and his opinions are widely respected. It is no surprise, then, that he has chosen to express himself so clearly on this matter.

Kennedy, like many others, was a man of great talent and intelligence. He was also a man who knew how to use that talent to benefit others. He was a leader who inspired confidence and hope in those around him. His legacy is one that will be remembered for years to come.

Barnett's views are not the only ones shared by those who speak of Kennedy. Many others have spoken highly of his contributions to the state and the nation. His legacy is a testament to the power of leadership and the importance of using that power to make a positive impact on the world.

To the editor:

Women work out of necessity

Eddie Sengerman writes in an open letter to the Rev. W.D. Odom:

"As a woman who works out of necessity, I am writing to express my concern about the perceived and real issues of sexism in the workplace. The idea that women are only allowed to work in positions that are seen as 'feminine' is not only outdated but also damaging to both men and women.

"I have been working in positions that are traditionally considered 'male' for over a decade now, and I have seen firsthand the challenges that women face in these roles. One of the biggest issues is the idea that women are only capable of doing 'soft' work, and that anything 'hard' is not for us.

"This mentality is not only harmful to women, but also to the companies that employ us. By limiting the types of work that we are able to do, we are also limiting our potential as leaders and professionals. The concept of women being 'less capable' in certain roles is not only incorrect, but also harmful to the overall success of any company.

"I urge you to consider this issue and work to create a workplace that is inclusive and welcoming to everyone. By doing so, we can ensure that everyone has the opportunity to reach their full potential and contribute to the success of our company."

Asbestos to be discussed at CISD board meeting

Asbestos is one of the most dangerous materials known to man, and it is also a topic that will be discussed at the next CISD board meeting. The board is set to vote on a resolution that will address the issue of asbestos in the district's buildings.

The resolution will call for a comprehensive asbestos audit of all buildings in the district, and for a plan to be developed to address any asbestos exposure. The board is expected to vote on the resolution at their next meeting, which is scheduled for October 10th.

The issue of asbestos has been a concern for parents and community members for some time, and it is hoped that the resolution will provide a clear plan of action to address the issue.

Beckville students get tips from author

By Sandy Young

Sandy Young

Beckville students recently received tips on how to write through the generosity of local author Dr. Helen Davis. Davis made a special trip to Beckville to speak with elementary students about the creative process.

She encouraged the students to draw their ideas and to write about them. She told them that writing is not only fun, but it is also a way to express oneself. She also stressed the importance of reading and how it helps to improve writing skills.

After the presentation, Davis signed copies of her book for the students.

CHAPL, Ill. — Arthur Poe and Keith Poe of the Chapel Hill Panthers were ready to gameplan with their teammates.

"Today's game was all about taking care of business on the field," said Poe. "We knew we had to come out strong and we did.

The Panthers scored early and often, putting the Bulldogs on their heels from the start. The Bulldogs tried to rally in the second half, but it was too little too late.

At the final whistle, the Panthers celebrated their second consecutive victory with a 42-0 win over the Bulldogs.
