Catholics, Presbyterians next numerically

By Dorothy Nester

Troy, Texas (AP) — Catholics and Presbyterians are the next largest religious groups in the United States, according to a new report by the Pew Research Center.

The report, released Monday, estimates that there are about 38 million Catholics and 34 million Presbyterians in the U.S. This marks the first time that the two groups have been equal in size, surpassing the previous record of 35 million Catholics and 34 million Presbyterians set in 2015.

The number of Catholics has been declining steadily since the mid-1980s, while the number of Presbyterians has been growing slowly. The report attributes this shift to the growing number of Hispanic Americans, who are more likely to be Catholic than white Americans.
