A robber suspect was arrested Friday afternoon in Mount Pleasant after a high-speed chase through the community which ended when the suspect crashed his vehicle into a tree in the 300 block of East Main Street.

Police said the suspect, who was wanted for theft, was driving a stolen vehicle when he was spotted entering the city. A several-mile chase ensued, with the suspect speeding through traffic and dodging police vehicles.

During the chase, the suspect was reported to have fired a gun at police officers, who returned fire and struck the suspect's vehicle. The suspect was then taken into custody without further incident.

The investigation into this incident is ongoing, and further details will be released as they become available.
Senators publicly grill insurance board

The Curious Reporter

AUSTIN — A panel of state legislators met Thursday morning to grill the insurance commissioners from Texas and New Mexico about the state of their industries.

The public hearing was part of the ongoing effort by the legislative committee to examine the insurance market in both states.

At the hearing, the senators expressed concerns about the high cost of insurance, the lack of affordability, and the availability of affordable coverage.

One senator asked the commissioner from Texas about the state's proposed rate increases for homeowners insurance.

The commissioner explained that the rate increases were necessary to cover the costs of claims and to maintain profitability.

Another senator asked the commissioner from New Mexico about the state's efforts to increase the number of affordable insurance options for low-income consumers.

The commissioner responded that the state was working to improve its risk-based pricing model to better reflect the costs of claims for low-income consumers.

The hearing was held in the State Capitol building in Austin.

The Panola County Post

Four-year-old Latoya Jones, seen here with her mother, Kathy Jones, is the Panola County Police Department's new mascot.

The police department is starting a new tradition of having a child as its mascot to promote community involvement and positive interaction between law enforcement and the community.

Mayor David Brown said the idea came about when he was approached by a member of the children's art class at East Texas School.

The children wanted to create a poster for the police department, and the idea of having a child as the mascot was suggested.

Brown said he liked the idea and offered to help.

Latoya was chosen because she is the daughter of one of the police department's officers.

The children created a poster featuring Latoya, and it was displayed at the police department's annual awards ceremony.

Subject: Paved roads

Dear Editor,

Each week, I’ve heard the same: "They need to build a new road in this area." But every time I’ve gone through the process of trying to get anything done, it’s been a nightmare.

I’ve heard that the people of this area are tired of the potholes and the rough roads.

The roads are a problem in this area, and it’s time for something to be done.

Sincerely,

Dogs explode to topple Leopards

By TERRI LEACH

Certified one homeowner in the Panola County area can say that last fall did bring a lot of dogs and big explosions. Littlehampton Bulldog fans and fans of the area still had the memory of the Dogs' game against Carthage. The Bulldogs won, 73-51, and the Leopards have not been the same since.

They're playing ball and we're playing our best basketball of the season," said Dog Coach Don Ransom. "We had a good second half and the Dogs really opened up the game in the final minutes. We're looking to make some adjustments in the practice and try to improve on our defense. The Dogs have a lot of potential and we're excited to see what they can do."

The Dogs have a tough schedule ahead of them, but Ransom is confident that they can handle it. "We have a lot of young talent and we're looking to build on our success from last year. The Dogs have a lot of work to do, but we're confident that they can do it."

'Gospel Explosion' may leave some footsoles

By Dorothy Norris

It's a long, long way from Turner School to Longbranch, but in the eyes of the students at Turner School, it's not such a far journey. The students of Turner School, along with some of their teachers and support staff, went on a trip to Longbranch to visit with the students at Longbranch School.

The trip was a part of a new program that the Turner School is beginning to offer to its students. The program is called the Turner School Outreach Program, and it is designed to help students from Turner School connect with others and learn about different cultures.

"We wanted to do something that would help our students understand and appreciate the world around them," said Turner School Principal Dr. John Smith. "We thought it would be great to take our students to Longbranch School, where they can learn about the lives of other children and see how they live.

"We hope that this program will help our students become more aware of the world around them and how they can make a difference in the lives of others," said Smith. "We believe that the Turner School Outreach Program will be a great asset to our school and our community.

Season of Lent to begin with imposition of ashes

In St. William of York Catholic Church on Wednesday, Feb. 8, the Season of Lent will begin with the imposition of ashes. The service will include the distribution of ashes to those present, and will be conducted by Father John Smith, officiating pastor of St. William of York Catholic Church.

The ashes used in the service will be blessed and will be placed on the forehead of each person present. The ashes will be blessed by Father Smith, and will be used to form a cross on the forehead of each person present.

"The ashes are a symbol of our mortality," said Father Smith. "They remind us that we are all mortal, and that we must live our lives in accordance with the will of God.

"The ashes are also a symbol of our sin," said Father Smith. "They remind us that we are all sinners, and that we must seek forgiveness and redemption through the grace of God.

"The ashes are a symbol of our hope," said Father Smith. "They remind us that even though we are mortal and sinners, we can still have hope in the grace of God.

"The ashes are a symbol of our commitment," said Father Smith. "They remind us that we must commit ourselves to living our lives in accordance with the will of God, and to seeking forgiveness and redemption through the grace of God.
