FORD, WEAVER VIE FOR BECKVILLE SEAT

Rayford Ford will oppose Larry Weaver for City Commission Place 4 in the Beckville city election Saturday, April 9.

Ford has been an incumbent for four years while Weaver is running for the first time.

Ford, a 55-year-old Bailey County native, has been mayor of Beckville for 14 years. He has worked in county government for 31 years and is currently a deputy county judge.

Weaver, a 38-year-old Beckville native, is a retired state peace officer and has been involved in police work for 28 years. He has also been actively involved in various community organizations.

Both candidates agree on the need for improvement in the city’s infrastructure, including roads and water systems. Ford also emphasizes the importance of developing new industries and attracting more businesses to the area.

Weaver, on the other hand, focuses on public safety and ensuring the community’s security. He has expressed a desire to work with local law enforcement agencies to address any potential issues.

The election will take place on Saturday, April 9, with polling stations open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Residents of Beckville are encouraged to vote and make their voices heard.

Cats drop two one-run decisions
Tatum nips Beckville in seventh

GEORGIA - Tatum nipped Beckville in the seventh inning for a 5-4 win in District 22-AA, maintaining its hold on the top of the league as the season winds down.

The game was stormy, with lightning strikes and heavy rain forcing the players to take shelter under a tent for a time. The score was tied at 4-4 when Tatum's Henry Smith got the go-ahead run home on a single by John Smith in the seventh.

Tatum's coach, Tracy Moore, said, "I'm glad we got the win. We were down 3-4 but we kept fighting and eventually came back." Beckville's coach, Mike Johnson, added, "We played well but we just couldn't get the runs we needed."
