Leaky gasoline tanks replaced

Heavy equipment crews arrived at the Panola County Fairgrounds on Monday to dig up and remove 14,400-gallon underground gasoline tanks at the Fairgrounds. The tanks were discovered leaky when they were tested several days earlier at the nearby Frenship Apartments. The tanks are now covered with dirt, and six by six foot concrete slabs.

The tanks were found to be leaking in many areas, and the leak was detected by the city of Midland. The leak was later confirmed by the city of Midland. The leak was traced to a problem with the tank's internal lining, which had been damaged by years of exposure to the weather.

As a precautionary measure, two of the tanks were removed and replaced for one week until the leak was fixed. The other tanks were left in place until the leak was fixed.

The Texas Water Development Board was called in to see if the tanks were being used legally.
