Board nixes wells
Sites too close to local schools

The Panola County Board of Education turned down a request by Union Pacific to drill three wells to provide water for the Lakeview Elementary and College Road schools. They say there was no opposition from area residents. Approximately 60 residents showed up to oppose the drilling and to get answers to their questions during the meeting. Panola County Superintendent Mac Wheat had previously expressed his concern to the safety of students at the schools due to the presence of football games in the area, near the well site. The school board was advised by the attorney that the lawsuit of the students residing near the wells was filed on behalf of both sides, and board members told teachers and parents at the schools that they would approve the drilling and to look for new locations in the future that are not as close to the school property.

Gospel strains, horses' hoofs

We call attention to two Panola County events coming this weekend.

The first is the Gospel Quartet Jubilee — a first of its kind in the county. It is at the Junior High School auditorium on Saturday at 7 p.m. The group is made up of four people who have been singing together for over 20 years. The Brothers will also be performing, and they are sure to bring in the spirit of the Lord.

Multi-platinum performer Mattson is making a return appearance to the county on Saturday. He is expected to draw in a large crowd, and the event is expected to be a hit. Mattson has been on tour for the past year, and he is excited to return to his hometown.

Don't miss these events, and come out to support our local talent.

Beckville trail day has something for everyone

By Dorothy Smith

Beckville's annual 4-H Trail Ride and Barbecue had a different look this year due to the COVID-19 pandemic. The event was held on Saturday, April 17, with a few modifications to ensure everyone's safety.

The ride began at the Beckville Fairgrounds, where participants gathered to receive their trail maps and enjoy a delicious breakfast. Weather conditions were perfect for the outdoor event, with a high of 72 degrees and a low of 60 degrees.

"We've had some long-term plans to move the event to a different location," said Jennifer Smith, president of the 4-H Club. "But the pandemic made it necessary to change our plans. We're hoping to move to a new location next year." She added that they will continue to hold the event for as long as possible, despite the challenges it presents.

The ride was a success, with many families participating. The trails were well-marked, and the weather was ideal for a fun day out in the country. Participants enjoyed the beautiful scenery and the opportunity to spend time with their families.

"It was a great day," said Mr. Smith, who was one of the organizers of the event. "We're already looking forward to next year's event. We appreciate everyone who participated today and look forward to seeing you all again next year."
