BILL YET TO BE PASSED

CISD MAY RECEIVE ADDITIONAL MONEY

BY CHARLES MOORE

The CISD board of trustees has granted the district an increase in state funding as part of a $300 million school finance reform package proposed recently by the Texas Senate. Some of the area school districts would gain state aid with these state funds. The Senate 8110 for Sen. Glinton, D-Paris, is the bill for the increase in state funds. The Senate 8110 creates a $300 million fund to be distributed over a 10-year period.

The funds would be used to help defray the expense of the implementation of the new mathematics curriculum. The funds would be distributed to the schools based on the number of students enrolled in the school district.

The bill has yet to be passed and if passed, the money will be distributed to the school districts based on the number of students enrolled.

The current state funding formulas do not include the cost of implementing the new mathematics curriculum. The CISD board of trustees has been working to get the bill passed in order to help defray the cost of implementing the new mathematics curriculum.

Former crack addict tells it like it is

By Tony Miller

Bobby Miller

A former crack addict tells it like it is. When people think of a crack addict, they usually picture someone who is living on the streets, using drugs, and generally living a life of crime. Bobby Miller, a former crack addict, tells his story of how he got into the life of drugs and how he was able to get out of it.

Bobby was a young man when he started using drugs. He was in his late teens and early twenties when he first tried crack. He was attracted to the drug because of its short-term high and the fact that it was easy to get. He started using crack on a regular basis and soon found himself unable to stop.

Bobby's life began to spiral out of control. He lost his job, his family, and his friends. He was arrested multiple times for drug-related offenses and spent years in prison. He knew that he needed help, but he didn't know where to turn.

Bobby's life took a turn for the better when he met a man who told him about a rehabilitation program for drug addicts. The man encouraged Bobby to give it a try, and Bobby accepted the offer. He entered the program and began the journey of recovery.

Bobby's story is one of hope and inspiration. He shows that even in the darkest of times, there is always a way out. He encourages others to seek help and to never give up on themselves.

The post also mentions that there is a need for more rehabilitation programs for drug addicts, and that the government needs to do more to help those in need.}

In fiscal year 1988

Spending in PC increases

Direct federal spending on personal computers continues to increase. The federal government of the United States spent $2.5 billion on personal computers in 1988, which is an increase of 20% from the previous year. This increase is largely due to the growing use of personal computers in government agencies for data processing and communication purposes.

In fiscal year 1988, the total amount spent by federal agencies on personal computers was $2.5 billion. This was an increase of 20% from the previous year. The use of personal computers in government agencies is expected to continue to grow in the future.

Belt buckle craftsman always open to fresh ideas

By Dorothy Mallott

D. H. Ables of Guthrie, Okla., a self-taught craftsman, is an expert buckle maker. He started making and selling his work in 1945. He is also a welder, plumber, and electrical contractor.

Ables, who sells his work in the Panola County area, says that he enjoys the process of creating unique pieces. "I enjoy making things," he said. "I have a lot of ideas and I would love to make more." Ables' work is featured in the book "The Art of the Pocket Knife." He has also won numerous awards for his work.
