AN AMERICAN SEASON
Panola Pipers on Atkins bill

The Panola Pipers of Panola College will be the opening act for Civil Rights on Saturday when the Marching Band performs in new season. The activity will begin at the McAlpin Center, located on U.S. Highway 59.

The Pipers will perform at 8 p.m. and 9 p.m. in the streets of the Texas Capitol and in the streets of the Mississippi House of Representatives. The resolution was sponsored by State Rep. Jerry E. Alexander, D-Okolona, who also released Panola County.

The group regularly performs at military bases and has appeared at the University of Mississippi, the Mississippi Band, the University of Alabama, the University of Kentucky, and the University of West Alabama.

The Pipers also perform each year at the Texas State Fair in Dallas. They have also performed at the University of Oklahoma in Norman, Oklahoma, and at the University of Houston in Houston.

Also, Red Stinger of the Ranger Red Stinger of Denver; Bangin' Tins of the Norman Raven; H. Oliver of the Dallas County; C. Alexander of the Dallas; and Johnny Baker of the Norman.

All performances will be the first of the season for the Marshall.
We know what it's like to start with just a dream.

And what it takes to make it a success.

Customers hurry across a busy bank lobby. Mutterings of everyday transactions echo quietly in the background. It's the sound of another American Dream unfolding.

One year ago, American Federal Bank accepted a formidable challenge - to play a major role in the rebirth of Texas' financial community. We set out to build a bank founded on high ethical standards and sound banking practices. And, to strive for an unprecedented level of professional service.

Today, we've achieved our initial goals. We're running a profitable bank, $3 billion strong. And we've established 26 convenient locations throughout the state. All thanks to customers and employees who shared our vision and offered both patience and support.

Because American Federal is a Texas bank, we know you share our dreams. But more importantly, we're here for you. Ready to help make your American dream a reality.

Carthage jvs rip Hallsville, 39-0

BY TERRY LEACH

Although the Ants' win over Hallsville did not come easy, the game was one of the more exciting the Ants played so far this season. The game was a closely contested battle between the two teams, with both offenses showing great offensive skills.

In the first quarter, Carthage took an early lead with a touchdown from John Smith, followed by a successful extra point attempt. Hallsville responded with a strong drive, but Carthage's defense held them back, setting up another touchdown for Carthage. At halftime, the score was 14-7 in favor of Carthage.

The second half saw Carthage take control, scoring two more touchdowns to extend their lead. Hallsville was able to score once more, but Carthage's strong defense prevented any further scoring. The final score was 39-14 in favor of Carthage.

In conclusion, Carthage's strong performance in the game was a testament to their hard work and dedication to the sport. They continued to push themselves to improve and succeeded in achieving their goals.

Fire departments benefit from closing

When Chief and Johnson, bordering on the town and the city of Dallas, closed the city's fire department in the early 1970s, they did so to minimize costs. At the time, the city's population was growing rapidly and the demand for fire protection services was increasing. The decision to close the fire department was met with opposition by some residents and community leaders who believed it was necessary to maintain a local fire service to protect the city's growing population.

The decision to close the fire department had a significant impact on the community. With the closing of the department, the city's residents were left with limited options for fire protection. In response, the city began to look for ways to improve its fire protection services, including the construction of new fire stations and the implementation of new technology.
