Halloween activities
It's that free of the spooky—files for ghosts, goblins and ghouls to begin dressing for Halloween activities on this page. If you excited, church, community organization or individual are planning activities for Halloween with the Panola College students and/or guests, please submit dates, times, locations and a contact person by Oct. 20th. Be sure to include data, time, place and phone number.

"America's Team" has become "America's Laughingstock" and some critics one of the Dallas Cowboys want to do something about it.
Coxemas for Mitch Coxemas, an estranged cousin from Galveston, is a lost brother against Cowboys, Morris James. Cowboys Coach Jerry Jones and the Dallas Cowboys organization has taken out of the program's new record and this season its 10th anniversary celebration, minus the long and much-anticipated run. The team and its fans have been waiting for the Cowboy team to put up a good showing in the NFL for the past few years. The team is only 2-2 for the season. The Cowboys are looking to bounce back this week against the San Francisco 49ers, who are 5-1 so far this season.

Texas wants Red River project

City Stafford this week with the help of the Red River Navigation Project has announced plans to develop a project to connect the city with the Red River. The project, which would connect the city of Stafford with the Red River, would cost $750,000 to complete. The project would be funded by a grant from the Red River Navigation Project. The project would involve the construction of a new bridge across the Red River at Stafford, a riverwalk along the river, and the development of a new marina on the river. The project is expected to be completed by the end of 2023.

PC welcomes new registrar

There is a new face in the Office of the Registrar at the University of the Panola College. Victoria French has been named registrar of the college and will cover a range of duties, including registration, billing, financial aid, and student services. She will also be responsible for updating course schedules, maintaining the college's database, and handling student records. French, a graduate of the University of Georgia, has been an administrative assistant at the college for the past four years. She has also worked as a counselor at the school for two years. French's appointment will be effective immediately.

They chose Forebought—funeral planning. My first reaction was, "They chose Forebought? That way they explained it in the letter made off all of the responsibility. I was embarrassed they planned it in advance. I'd have to make sure because in a couple of days when I'm at the office..." and all that information. But to meet their own stressful time.

THE MARY BROS., in new animated series

By Ken Craig

The popular comic strip Family Fare will be the central focus of a new animated series, "Saturday Night Special," premiering January 14 on ABC. The series, which will feature the adventures of the Burbank family, is the result of a collaboration between Family Fare creator Bill Wenzel and actor/director/offensive voiced by his wife, Kathleen Turner.

The show centers around the Burbank family, which includes two children—Sally and Ben—and a pet dog named Max. The series will explore various aspects of family life, from daily routine to more significant moments, all while maintaining the comedic tone of the comic strip.

"Family Fare" is a long-running feature in the "New York Times" and has been syndicated in newspapers across the country. It is known for its light-hearted humor and relatable situations.

The new series promises to bring the beloved characters to life in a fresh and entertaining way, offering a new perspective on the family dynamic through animation.
