City lets bids, rezeon property

Carthage City Commissioners met Monday night to decide several issues involving city easements and to publicly hear a rezoning petition at 201 Dakota St. The commission entertained five bids totaling $4,577 for three city easements.

The highest bidder for a 14-foot city easement for storm sewer lines and a 10-foot city easement for water line was PTO Enterprises, 303 W. State St., for $1,920. The winning bidder for a 2,380-square-foot city easement was First National Bank, 102 W. State St., for $1,260.

An easement is a strip of land that provides access to a public service, such as a sewer line or water line. It is used to ensure that the service can be maintained and repaired. When a property owner wants to build on land that is already used as an easement, they must get permission from the city to do so.

Fatal accidents decrease in area

Rural fatal accidents in the 10-county Tyler Highway Patrol District decreased by 22 percent and deaths from such accidents decreased by 19 percent from 1998.

For the first 10 months of 1999, Texas Rangers Patrol Troopers investigated 1,995 accidents in the district, including 93 fatal accidents that claimed 136 lives and 1,794 injuries.

For the same period in 1998, Texas Rangers Patrol Troopers investigated 2,502 accidents in the district, including 113 fatal accidents that claimed 203 lives and 2,310 injuries.

The decrease in accidents and fatal accidents is a result of increased law enforcement efforts and public education campaigns, according to the Texas Department of Public Safety.

The decrease in serious accidents and injuries is a result of increased safety measures and public education campaigns, according to the Texas Department of Public Safety.

In addition, a new management team at the company has implemented new safety protocols and improved training programs, leading to a decrease in accidents.

Laws will shape state’s future

Amendments explained

By Texas Secretary of State George P. Bush, who said he is considering the possibility of submitting the measure to voters in November 2023. He noted that the proposed amendment would change the state’s election laws and make changes to the voting system.

The proposed amendment would allow for a vote-by-mail system, which would make it easier for people to vote, especially those who live in rural areas or who have difficulty getting to polling places.

The proposed amendment would also allow for early voting, which would give people more time to vote before election day.

Whether the issue is elections or education, there are many changes happening in Texas that will affect the state’s future. The proposed amendment is one of several that could change the course of the state.

Social Security

A Social Security manager, I'd have to say, was quite a spectacle recently. He was at a conference in the city and decided to go out to dinner. He ordered a steak and a glass of wine. When the waiter brought the steak, he noticed something strange. The manager asked for a fork and knife, but instead of a fork, he was given a knife and a fork. He looked at the waiter and said, "I thought I saw a fork before." The waiter replied, "Oh, that was your wine glass." The manager nodded and continued, "I see." The waiter then realized what was happening and apologized. The manager finished his dinner and left, leaving the waiter to wonder if he would ever see the像 (at the bottom of the page, it seems like there is a broken section of text).

Beckville's Seth Sisk (4) dives over the goal line for no. 14 in the first quarter against Chemah's. Photo by Linus Moore.

Evens (1-0) scored the game's first touchdown with 10:29 left in the third quarter on a quarterback draw from ninth grader Aaron Evens, finding a gap in the Chemah (1-2) defense to score the 7-yard touchdown. The Cats added a two-point conversion to lead, 8-0.

Evens had 129 yards on 20 carries.

Kimberly Farnsworth scored Beckville's other touchdown, a 1-yard run with 11:40 left in the first quarter.

Chemah's scoring came on a 41-yard field goal by Noah Scales in the second quarter. Scales' field goal tied it at 8-8 with 10:31 left in the third quarter.

In the first quarter, Beckville's Sam Sisk (38) made the tackle on Chemah's quarterback, while Adam Curran made the tackle on the running back. In the second quarter, Beckville's Seth Sisk (4) made the tackle on Chemah's running back. These players made great efforts in tackling and making sure the Chemah players didn't get a chance to run.

Carthage College football coach Jon Davis says his team's offense, which began the season in the middle of the pack, can do even better.

"Our offensive line is as strong as it has ever been," Davis said. "I expect us to be better than we were last year."

Davis said the offense is "as strong as it can be."

The Carthage Bengals, who finished last year with a 5-5 record, are expected to be a competitive team this year.

Carthage coach B. J. Dodson will have two young quarterbacks in his lineup this season. Senior Mike Blackwell returns as the starting quarterback after thriving in Dodson's West Branch system. But the starting role is not guaranteed. "I don't want to have two quarterbacks," Dodson said. "I'd like to have a couple of them battle it out in practice to see who can make more changes." Dodson is in his second year at Carthage after spending 13 years at Bluffton High School.

CHS' Joey Buxton hands off to Cory Cato against Chapel Hill

In 1998, Carthage head football coach B. J. Dodson faces a rebuilding job. The Chieftains are coming off a 1-9 season in which they were outscored 497-357.

The Chieftains' offense will be led by quarterback Mike Blackwell, who was his team's second leading rusher last season. Blackwell, who led the Chieftains with 1,554 yards rushing last year, is expected to contribute both as a passer and a runner.

The other key returnee on the offensive side of the ball is senior tackle and center John Washington, who was second on the team in rushing.

Blackwell and Washington will be counted on to provide leadership for a young Carthage team that has just one returning starter on offense.

Defensively, Carthage will be young. The Chieftains will be relying on senior linebacker Todd Robinson to help lead a defense that will be counting on its speed to make up for its lack of experience.

The key to Carthage's success this season will be how well Blackwell and Washington can help their team to compete against the strong teams in the District 5-3A.

Host Henderson Thursday in key 16-AAAAA tilt

Carthage jvs seeking seventh win

By TED LACKEY

The Carthage junior varsity is looking to win its seventh straight game when it hosts Henderson on Thursday. Carthage has won six straight games after opening the season with a 40-0 loss to Nederland.

Carthage coach B. J. Dodson said his team is looking forward to the challenge of playing against Henderson, which is one of the stronger junior varsity teams in the district.

Carthage has not lost to Henderson since 1995, when the teams were in the same district. Dodson said his team is looking to continue that streak.

Carthage is coming off a 48-0 victory over East Chambers, which was its second straight shutout.

The Carthage junior varsity will be counting on its speed and athleticism to make up for its lack of experience. The team will be relying on senior running back Mike Blackwell to help lead the offense.

Carthage junior varsity games are usually more physical than those against league opponents, and Dodson said his team is ready for the challenge.

The Carthage junior varsity is looking to build on its strong start this season and continue its winning streak against Henderson.
