Beckville students design book jackets

The Beckville High School student body recently selected their upcoming book jacket design, which was created by Beckville High School senior and art student, Emily Landrum. The design features a blue and white color scheme with a depiction of a graduation cap and a diploma. The purpose of the book jacket design is to showcase the school's pride and to represent the students and their achievements. The selection process involved a vote among the students, and the final design was chosen based on popularity and creativity. The new book jacket will be used for the upcoming school year, and the design will be printed on all school publications, including yearbooks and course handouts.

If You're Considering Cataract Surgery...

Do you perform 'one stitch' cataract surgery?

Do you remove my cataract by phacoemulsification?

Do you use a flexible lens implant?

'One stitch' cataract surgery is based on the simple principle that a small incision heals more easily than a large one.

When the surgeon uses a process called phacoemulsification, the cataract can be removed through the smallest incision possible...less than 1/8th of an inch. And for the patient this means the fastest return to good vision with almost no limitations on resuming an active lifestyle.

At the Steen-Hall Eye Institute we provide the latest and very best in eye care, because we believe good sight should be for life.

In other words, this dog store grew to be

this year, I understand

Other nearby businesses were damaged by the fire, but the courthouse, the courthouse and mail office, and the diner, were spared.

As in so many other small towns in the region, the store was a focal point for the
