Rep. Chapman introduced boot camp prison legislation

U.S. Rep. Jim Chapman (D-Rusk) has introduced a bill to establish a boot camp prison program. The program would provide a non-violent alternative for certain low-level offenders. Chapman said the bill is designed to help reduce the state's prison population and provide a rehabilitation opportunity for offenders. The bill would allow for the construction of new boot camp facilities and the expansion of existing ones. Chapman said the program would focus on providing education, vocational training, and other services to help inmates transition back into society.
