The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers said recently that it had decided to delay building a crucial section of the Panorama Dam in South Carolina because of insufficient funding. The dam, designed to control flooding and support hydroelectric power, remains incomplete.

The dam was scheduled for completion by the end of 1955, but construction has been hindered by financial difficulties. The Corps of Engineers estimate that an additional $10 million is needed to complete the project.

The delay is expected to cause flooding problems in the surrounding area and could also affect hydroelectric production. The Corps of Engineers is considering alternative measures to control the flooding, including the construction of levees and the placement of barriers.

President Blackmon was arrested on charges of embezzlement on Friday, May 10. He is accused of diverting funds intended for the construction of a new community center to his personal use. The investigation is ongoing, and the extent of the embezzlement is not yet known.

The arrest has caused outrage in the community, and a number of residents have called for Blackmon's resignation. The mayor has expressed sympathy for the residents' concerns but has declined to comment on the case.

Time extended to re-divide public school funds

The deadline for residents of the Panola County School District to submit their proposals for re-dividing the public school funds has been extended. The original deadline was April 1, but the school district has now extended it to May 31. This extension will allow for more time for residents to review and propose changes to the current funding formula.

Ruling was without legal precedent

The ruling in the recent case of Jones v. Smith set a new legal precedent. The case involved a dispute over the interpretation of a state statute regarding the appointment of school board members. The court ruled that the statute was unconstitutionally vague, and that the appointment process was done in a manner that violated the state’s open meeting laws.

"Trivial Facts"
The word "amen" used in Christian prayers is a Hebrew word meaning "so let it be." The term "Hut Tricks" is used both in horse racing and in ice hockey. If a hockey wins three races in a day, he has accomplished the "Hot Tricks." By the same token, if a hockey player scores three goals in one game, it's "Hat Tricks."
