In 1988, the Texas Legislature approved legislation authorizing local school districts to issue bonds and sell shares to raise funds for schools. However, the Panola County School District has been unable to sell shares, and as a result, the district is unable to raise funds for school improvements.

In April, the school district attempted to sell shares, but the sale of shares was not successful. The school district is now considering other options for raising funds, such as applying for state grants or seeking private donations.

The school district is currently in the process of developing a long-term financial plan to address its funding needs. The district is also considering the possibility of entering into partnerships with local businesses to generate additional revenue.

The school district is committed to providing quality education for all students, and the district is working to ensure that all students have access to the resources they need to succeed. The district is also working to increase community involvement in the school district, and the district is seeking input from parents, students, and community members on how the district can better serve the needs of its community.
