Escapee arrested in Caribbean

In November, while Merle Dorset was imprisoned in the Farmersville, Texas, jail, he escaped through a hole in the fence and disappeared for days. Dorset was eventually captured in the Caribbean, where he was hiding in a cave. He was subsequently extradited to Texas and returned to prison. The escapade was a major embarrassment for the prison system and led to a review of security measures. In the end, Dorset was sentenced to life in prison.

The details of the escape are still unclear, but it is believed that Dorset was able to build a makeshift raft and sail to the nearby island. From there, he was picked up by a fishing boat and transported to the nearest port. The authorities were quick to respond, and a search was launched immediately. The search eventually led to Dorset's capture, and he was returned to Texas to face his charges.

County approves fencing bid

Commissioners ok Neve as Sharp Field manager

In another positive development, the county commissioners have approved a bid from Neve Coatings to build a new fence around Sharp Field. The project is expected to cost $5 million and will be funded through a combination of federal and state grants. The new fence will provide additional security for the field and help prevent future incidents like the one that occurred in 1998.

Federal spending declines

Despite a recent increase in federal spending, the state has seen a decrease in federal funding. This is due in part to the end of the war in Iraq and a decrease in military spending. The state is now looking to alternative sources of funding, such as local taxes and grants, to make up for the shortfall.
