Death penalty proposed for drug dealers
Williams wants more jails built

By Charles Metcalf

The News-Gazette

Williams wants to build more jails in a move to reduce crime. He says, "I believe in giving people a second chance."

In the town of Williams, drug dealers are a common sight. The police department is overwhelmed with cases, and there is a lack of resources to handle them. Williams is proposing the construction of more jails to handle the increasing number of drug dealers.

"I believe in giving people a second chance," Williams said. "We need more jails to handle the drug dealers." He added that the city will work with the state to get the necessary funds to build the new jails.

Teacher to compete for Presidential Award

CISD's Evers honored for work

Hannah Sweat, a teacher for four years at Garthwaite ISD, was honored as a state finalist by the distinction in teaching awards in Galena and San Antonio schools.

For the second year, Sweat taught science at the high school in Galena. In addition, Sweat is the only teacher to be named a finalist in San Antonio schools.

"We are proud to have her on our staff," said Dr. Norma Sue Evans, superintendent of Galena.

Options being explored for funds

Census count officially ends today

Today is the last day for the 2020 Census. The Department of Commerce and the Census Bureau have announced that the official count will end today.

The 2020 Census is the largest and most comprehensive count of the population in the United States. It is conducted every 10 years and provides critical data for decision-makers at all levels of government.

The census will be available for analysis on the Census Bureau's website.

Economy still on upswing

County sales tax rebates reveal sharp increase

Panola County continues to reap the benefits of the state's economic growth. The county has seen a sharp increase in sales tax rebates.

The increase is due to an increase in the number of sales tax rebates. The rebates are paid to businesses that have been hurt by the economic downturn.

This year, the rebates have increased by 10.14 percent. The increase is due to the booming economy and the increase in sales tax rebates.

There is more to hormone treatments than meet the eye

Fountain of youth looks like mirage

Baylor Medical's advice isn't always applicable

I get this news release in the mail the other day from Baylor Medical Center, and it is one involving something that I don't often mention - hormone treatments. It's a topic that I hear a lot about, but I don't always agree with the advice that is given.

I called the number on the other day to ask about hormone treatments, and they said that they didn't have any specific information for me. They said that they only treat patients who have been diagnosed with diabetes, and that they don't give any other information.

I think that this is a good thing, because it means that they are taking a more cautious approach to the issue. I think that it's important to be careful when it comes to hormone treatments, because they can have serious side effects.

I also think that it's important to talk to your doctor before you start any hormone treatment. They can help you decide if it's the right choice for you, and they can also monitor you for any side effects that might occur.

Bill would penalize Texas teams for leaving the fold

Warning shots fired at SWC malcontents

Our readers write...

Dear Editor

I am writing to express my concern about the recent news article that was published in the local newspaper. The article was about a group of Texas teams that were leaving the SWC, and it seemed to be biased towards the idea that these teams were making a bad decision.

I do not agree with the idea that these teams are making a bad decision, and I think that the newspaper should be more objective when they cover stories like this. I believe that it's important to give both sides of the story, and to let readers make their own decisions.

Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,

Joan Johnson

Water traffic prompted growth

Know Your Heritage

A boat can't move without water.

It is a simple concept that we often take for granted.

There are many stories behind Panola's growth. A story of water traffic. A story of a hole in the ground. A story of the moon's pull. And a story about a board meeting.

In the early days, a canal allowed boats passage from the Tyler area to the Panola area.

Each boat had to be loaded with a load of grain to fill the hole. Once the boat was loaded, the canal filled up, allowing the boat to pass through. This went on for months, as the boat was unloaded on the other side.

One day, a meeting was held to discuss the future of the canal. It was decided to fill it in and use it for a different purpose. This was the beginning of our town.

Zoe's recipe box

My grandmother used to make the best cookies. She was a master in the kitchen, and she would often bring over plates full of fresh-baked cookies for us to enjoy.

I decided to try my hand at making her recipe, and it was a success. I have been making these cookies ever since, and I have even shared them with friends and family.

Here is my recipe for Grandma's cookies:

Ingredients:

- 2 cups flour
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup butter
- 1 egg
- 1 tsp vanilla extract
- 1 tsp baking soda
- 1 tsp baking powder
- 1/2 tsp salt

Instructions:

1. Preheat oven to 350°F.
2. In a large bowl, mix together flour, sugar, butter, egg, vanilla, baking soda, baking powder, and salt.
3. Roll dough into balls and place on baking sheet.
4. Bake for 10-12 minutes or until golden brown.
5. Cool on wire rack.

Enjoy the delicious cookies!

First Things First
By TULA BOOS

We have just returned from a 3 day trip to the Blue Ridge Mountains. The weather was just perfect, not too hot and not too cold. The drive was rather long, but we made it in good time. We spent the first day at Great Smoky Mountain National Park and the second at Shenandoah National Park. Both were very beautiful and we saw many wildlife. We also visited the historic appalachian trail along the way. We plan to return again sometime in the future. It was a great experience.

J.R. to continue wreaking havoc when 'Dallas' returns in fall

LET'S TALK

1973: The year of the great oil embargo. One of the most significant events in recent history, the embargo had a profound impact on the global economy and the American way of life. It was caused by a political crisis in the Middle East, which led to a decrease in oil production and led to higher prices at the pump. The embargo also had a ripple effect on other industries, as it led to shortages of gas and other goods. As a result, the United States and other countries were forced to adjust their energy policies and become more self-sufficient. The embargo also had a lasting impact on the Middle East, as it helped to increase the political influence of Arab nations and led to the formation of OPEC, an organization that continues to control oil prices to this day.
