Samford loses bid for large pay increase

In a 6-2 vote, the Panola County Commission turned down a request for an increase in the pay of the county attorney, Michael Samford. The commission said the $15,000 per year increase, which would have raised the pay to $37,500, was too much for the county to afford.

Samford, who has been the county attorney for five years, said he was disappointed with the decision. He said he had worked hard to keep the county's legal expenses down and that he was proud of his record.

The commission said it would consider the issue again in the future, but for now, Samford will continue to receive his current salary of $22,500.

Eighteen businesses join community organization

The Panola County Chamber of Commerce held a meeting to discuss the possibility of forming a community organization to promote the town. Chamber President Betty White said the idea was to bring together local businesses to work on common issues.

White said, "Our goal is to promote the town and help it grow. We believe that by working together, we can make a real difference." The chamber is considering several options, including a downtown revitalization project and a festival to attract tourists.

The meeting was attended by dozens of local businesses, including restaurants, retailers, and service providers. Many in attendance expressed interest in getting involved.

War on drugs comes to Carthage

"We are determined to put an end to the drug trade in Carthage," says Mayor James Johnson. "Our community is not going to be a haven for drug dealers." The mayor announced plans to increase police presence and institute new laws to combat the problem.

In a statement, Johnson said, "We cannot let drug addiction destroy our community. We must take action to protect our children and families." The mayor said the new laws would include stiffer penalties for drug dealers and increased surveillance of known drug routes.

Counseling program installed at Carthage Jr. High School

"We are committed to helping our students develop healthy habits," says Dr. John Morgan, principal of Carthage Jr. High School. "We believe that counseling programs are essential to our students' success." The school has teamed up with Panola County Mental Health Authority to provide counseling services.

"We want to ensure that our students have the tools they need to make good decisions," says Morgan. "We want to give them the skills they need to succeed in life." The counseling program will include individual and group sessions, as well as referrals to outside agencies when necessary.

The program is designed to meet the needs of all students, regardless of their backgrounds. It is expected to be a success, and the school is looking forward to seeing the results.

Bears win in overtime as red hot Bearcat running backs give the Dragons their first loss.

The Bears' final home game of the regular season was a highly anticipated contest between Bearcats and the visiting Carthage Dragons. The Bearcats, led by their powerful running game, dominated the early stages of the game, controlling the ball and keeping the Dragons on defense.

The Bears' first touchdown came early in the game when Bearcat running back Rondall Jones scored on a 3-yard run. The Bears added another TD later in the first quarter, taking a 14-0 lead into halftime.

In the second half, the Dragons fought back, scoring on a 2-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Jack Miller to receiver Mike Rice. The Bears answered with a field goal, but the Dragons tied the game with another touchdown from Miller, this time finding Mike Rice on a 10-yard pass.

The game remained tied at 17-17 late in the fourth quarter. The Bearcats had the ball and were driving down the field, looking to put the game out of reach. However, with just over a minute left in the game, the Bears fumbled the ball and the Dragons recovered in Bearcat territory.

The Dragons took advantage of the turnover, driving down the field in just over 20 seconds. With only 14 seconds left on the clock, Jack Miller handed off to Mike Rice, who weaved his way through the Bearcat defense for a 4-yard touchdown.

The Bears' last chance to win came in overtime, but they were stopped on a 4th down play just outside the Dragons' 5-yard line. The Bears' quarterback, Tony Jackson, was stopped for a 2-yard loss on the final play, sealing the 17-20 win for the Bears.

The Bears' victory was their first of the season, and they will look to build on this momentum as they head into the playoffs. The Dragons, on the other hand, will be looking to regroup and prepare for their final regular season game.
