Show features local talent

Kiwani star search '90

A musical ensemble of College Station Kiwanians presented the annual Kiwani Star Search at Cactus High School on Saturday. The event featured performances by local children and young adults, showcasing their talent in singing, instrumental music, and dance.

The evening began with the Kiwanian Band, directed by Marvin Shonk, providing a dynamic backdrop for the performers. Among the acts were a variety of soloists and small groups, all demonstrating impressive skills.

The audience was captivated by the diversity of acts, which included classical piano performances, soulful singing, and energetic dance routines. The event concluded with a rousing encore from the Kiwanian Band, leaving the audience with a memorable and uplifting experience.

The Kiwani Star Search is an annual event that not only celebrates local talent but also raises funds for local community projects, underscoring the Kiwanians' commitment to service and support for youth.

Freshmen on roll; Mt. Pleasant next

By TED LEACH

The first team established this week were the Tigres. The 16-13 win over the Bulldogs made it two wins in a row for the freshmen after last week's drubbing. The freshmen now have a 2-0 record.

The freshmen were led by quarterback Dan Taylor, who tossed three touchdown passes and ran for another. His offensive line also did a great job of protecting him.

On defense, the freshmen clamped down on the Bulldogs' offense, holding them to just 13 points. The key was the defense's ability to get the ball turned over, as four Bulldog fumbles were recovered by the Tigres.

The freshmen's next game is against the Bobcats, who are currently 3-0. It should be a tough test for the freshmen, but they are looking forward to the challenge.

CMA Awards take note of country music newcomers

Country music awards

back in Nashville

By Marc Lee VanDoren

The CMA Awards are held annually in Nashville and are considered the most prestigious event in country music. The awards are held on Oct. 10, on CMT.

This year's event will feature performances by some of the biggest names in country music, including Dolly Parton, Garth Brooks, and Reba McEntire. The awards also include categories such as Album of the Year and Single of the Year, as well as awards for emerging artists.

One of the most anticipated performances will be by newcomer Maren Morris, who has been nominated for several awards. Morris' rise to fame has been rapid, and many believe she could win multiple awards this year.

Nashville, with its rich musical history and thriving music scene, is a natural fit for the CMA Awards. The city's culture and atmosphere make it the perfect backdrop for one of the most important events in country music.

NBC airs Jackie Collins' 'Lucky/Chances' miniseries

'Nightfever: Shirley's' debut outing

By Marc Lee VanDoren

NBC has announced that it will air a miniseries called 'Lucky/Chances,' based on the novels by Jackie Collins. The series will be directed by Susanne Bier and will premiere on Oct. 4.

The story follows the lives of two very different women, one from humble beginnings and the other from a wealthy background. Their paths cross in the world of high finance, and they must navigate the challenges of life in the city.

The cast includes an impressive lineup of actors, including Julia Roberts, who is set to play the role of Shirley. The series has been described as 'a modern-day version of Tolstoy's 'War and Peace.'

'Lucky/Chances' will be the first miniseries to be aired by NBC this season, and it is expected to be a ratings hit. The network is counting on the success of the series to help kick off its fall schedule.
