Local voters buck trend

Panelo County voters have consistently backed national and state Democratic candidates, and most of those votes have come from white voters. However, recent trends show that the number of white voters casting ballots has declined significantly. In the 2020 election, white voters accounted for 52% of the vote, down from 62% in 2016.

The decline in white voter support is not limited to Panelo County. Nationally, white voters have been increasingly turning away from the Democratic Party, particularly among younger voters. This shift is due in part to resentment towards the Democratic Party's stance on issues such as immigration, gun control, and healthcare.

Congressman Joe Cornyn, a Republican, said in a recent interview that white voters are becoming more conservative and are less likely to support the Democratic Party. "I think white voters have become more and more conservative," he said. "They are tired of the broken promises and the lack of leadership."
Good year for Texas pecans

With the climate it's safe for growing pecans due to the dry conditions, pecans are expected to have a good growing season. This year, pecan production is expected to be strong, with a potential for a significant increase in yields. The pecan industry is predicting a bumper crop, with many farmers reporting higher production than in previous years.

DA'S PROBE DOESN'T SEEM TO GO FAR ENOUGH

EDITORIAL

The revelation that an investigator of the criminal justice system in Texas was paid off by a colleague to allow a client to escape prosecution is cause for concern. The alleged action of Mr. D.A. could undermine public confidence in the integrity of the justice system.

The incident, which is currently under investigation by the Texas Rangers, involves an alleged pay-off of $5,000 to Mr. D.A. by another member of the justice system. The pay-off was allegedly made to prevent the client from being prosecuted for a crime.

The investigation has sparked widespread concern among legal professionals and the public. The Texas Rangers are conducting a thorough investigation to determine the validity of the allegations.

The incident highlights the need for stricter regulations and oversight in the justice system. It is important that the public has confidence in the integrity of the justice system to ensure fair and impartial dispensation of justice.

Dogs maul Kilgore, gain playoffs

By TED LEACH

The John Cooper School took a big step toward securing their place in the playoffs with a dominant 41-0 victory over the Kilgore Wildcats. The defense was a key component in this win, as they effectively stifled Kilgore's offensive efforts. The Panthers had been working hard to improve their defense, and this victory demonstrated their progress.

Chiefs’ defense chokes off Kilgore on the field

Chiefs’ defensive standout Darin Overton (35) reacts after sacking Kilgore quarterback Jeremy Littlejohn (11) during the second quarter of Friday’s game. Overton, a senior, was named to the All-State first team as a defensive end for the Chiefs. He had a strong season, helping lead the team to a playoff berth.

Chiefs’ defense chokes off Kilgore on the field

The Chiefs’ defense was a key factor in the team’s victory over Kilgore. They were able to不大 pause the Wildcats’ offensive efforts, leading to a decisive win in the game.

Chiefs’ defense chokes off Kilgore on the field

The Chiefs’ defense was dominant against Kilgore, allowing only a few points in the game. The chemistry and coordination among the players were evident, contributing to their success.

Chiefs’ defense chokes off Kilgore on the field

The Chiefs’ defense was a key component in their win against Kilgore. They were able to hold the Wildcats to a minimal number of points, showcasing their strength.

Carthage frosh hopeful of second

by C.C. Clark

This is a game with the potential for its first win over a team it has not beaten in a while.

Carthage and Pine Tree are both in the same division, but Carthage has never beaten Pine Tree. The teams have played each other in the past, but the last time Carthage won was in 1990.

Pine Tree is a strong team, but Carthage has been working hard to improve. The frosh are especially hopeful of a win, as they have struggled in previous games.

The game is scheduled for this weekend, and both teams are preparing for what could be a historic victory for Carthage.

Beckville wins region

Beckville, Texas, won the regional cross-country meet on Thursday, November 2, at the All-Butter Festival. The meet, which was held at the Beckville High School, featured teams from across East Texas. Beckville's boys team finished in first place, while the girls team was runner-up. The meet was a key component of the region's cross-country season, and the top finishers from both teams will represent Beckville in the state championships. "We've been working on this all season," said Beckville coach Tom Smith. "The kids have been training hard, and it paid off today." The boys team was led by senior David Johnson, who won the meet with a time of 15:42. His teammates, including juniors Ryan Brown and Josh Taylor, also performed well, helping to secure the team's victory. On the girls side, junior Ashley Black was the top finisher, with a time of 18:07. She was followed closely by seniors Sarah Johnson and Emily Brown, who finished in second and third place, respectively. "The girls team worked really hard all season," said coach Smith. "They've been pushing each other to get better, and it showed today." The meet was a competitive one, with several strong teams vying for the top spots. However, Beckville's hard work and dedication paid off, as they emerged as the region's champions. "We're really proud of these kids," said Smith. "They deserve this victory, and they deserve the opportunity to compete at the state championships." The region's cross-country season is just getting started, and Beckville's win is just the beginning of what promises to be a exciting season. "We're looking forward to the state championships," said Smith. "These kids are ready to take on the best in the state." The meet was a success, with over 100 runners from across the region participating. The Virginia Foote Middle School team from Beaumont finished in third place, while the Lufkin High School team came in fourth. Other strong teams included the Needville and Magnolia schools, who finished in fifth and sixth place, respectively.
