History repeating itself?

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

by Linda Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN: History does not repeat itself, at least not exactly. It is said that history repeats itself in cycles, but each cycle is different. And yet, we see old patterns reemerging, like the panhandling that has appeared in our streets. It is not clear what the purpose of this panhandling is, but it is certainly an unwelcome sight. The city has tried to deal with this issue before, but it seems to be getting worse.
