Panola County shows decrease in sales tax rebate checks

During the past week, the county has seen a decrease in the number of sales tax rebate checks issued. This is good news for the county, as it indicates that there may be a decrease in the number of people who are taking advantage of this program.

The decrease in rebate checks issued is likely due to a combination of factors, including a decrease in the number of people who are eligible to receive them and a decrease in the number of people who are actually applying for them.

Send it to Saudi

Last Christmas approximately 300,000 turkeys were shipped to Saudi Arabia. This year, according to Marie Pittman of the Panola County Farm Bureau, many of those turkeys refused to stay in Saudi. They were on their way to Washington. How so? After all, there is no need to refrigerate turkeys because the air temperature in Saudi is below freezing. The turkeys were sent to Washington because of a local rule that turkeys must be shipped to that city. As a result, many turkeys refused to stay in Saudi and instead took off for Washington. According to Marie, turkeys were observed stopping at various points along the way to Washington, such as Miami, Las Vegas, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Salt Lake City, Denver, Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago, and New York. The turkeys then continued their flight from all parts of the United States in order to complete their trip to Washington, where they were supplied to the military. According to Marie, many turkeys refused to fly in the same plane because they could not all fit. Thus, many turkeys refused to fly in the same plane, and there was a need to make a pit stop that didn’t exist. One turkey refused to fly because of a problem with the plane. As a result, Marie wondered why the turkeys had to go to Washington. Marie’s thoughts, however, were lost. The turkeys continued their flight to Washington.

A sense of accomplishment

By Laura Atkinson

One of my favorite things about Christmas is the way it brings people together. Whether it’s family gatherings or gift-giving, there’s something about the holiday season that brings people closer. Christmas 2019 was no exception. I remember spending the holidays with my family. We spent the day together, enjoying each other’s company and sharing stories. It was a lovely day, and I’m grateful that I got to spend it with them. After dinner, we all went outside to see the Christmas lights. It was a beautiful night, and we spent the evening laughing and chatting. It was a great way to end the day. One of the highlights of the evening was when my little cousin, Emma, saw Santa Claus. She was so excited, and it made me happy to see her so happy. Christmas 2019 was a special time for me, and I’m looking forward to more Christmas’s to come.
