Ethics reform bill locked up in House committee

In confirmation of what the bill's author, Rep. Steve Lott, R-Wash., had been saying all week, the House Appropriations Committee reported the bill out Wednesday without debate or amendment.

The bill, sponsored by the ethics committee, would require all House members to resign when they leave Congress unless they win a primary or general election in their own district.

The Ethics Committee was expected to report the bill Monday morning.

Our readers write...

State Rep. David Wilson, chairman of the state's Redistricting Committee, said Wednesday that the commission would consider adding 10 additional members to the panel.

The committee has been meeting twice a week to draw new district lines.

A new study indicates that men who smoke are at higher risk of developing heart disease than women who smoke.

The findings, published in the Journal of the American Medical Association, suggest that smoking may be more harmful to men than to women.

Cataracts can cloud your vision

If you are a Senior and want your world to be perfectly clear, you may be a candidate for cataract surgery.

Cataract surgery is a surgical procedure that removes the cataract from the eye and replaces it with a clear artificial lens.

The surgery is performed on an outpatient basis and typically takes about 15 minutes.

Brady bill tests U.S. Constitution

During the weekend, the Brady bill, which was passed by Congress last year, was tested for the first time.

The bill requires background checks for gun sales and require gun stores to keep records of sales.

Four big reasons to invest with Edward D. Jones & Co.

Harris awaits transplant

In the past year, 3-year-old Megan Harris has undergone more physical and mental tests than the average adult. The tests were to determine if she could undergo a thymus transplant — a surgery that replaces a patient’s thymus gland with a healthy donor’s gland — to treat her complex medical condition.

Throughout the process, Megan’s parents, who are currently applying for Medicaid to help cover the costs of the surgery, have been supported by the community. A GoFundMe page has raised more than $20,000 to help with these expenses.
