Connally shocks GOP party with announcement

The Panola Watchman
Wednesday, May 20, 1992

The booking trip for Pan, as it is known in the Senate, never turned out as expected. On Tuesday, the Senate Finance Committee held a hearing to discuss Connally's proposal. As the hearing began, Pan stood outside the room, his arms crossed and a smile on his face. When he entered, however, he was met with a storm of criticism. The committee members were outraged, and the hearing quickly degenerated into a heated exchange. Connally was forced to defend his proposal, and in the end, the committee voted against it. The next day, Pan continued to fight for his proposal, but it was clear that he was in deep trouble. The Ned Allen Report had been highly critical of his handling of the crisis, and it had been leaked to the press. Connally was rated one of the top ten most ineffective governors in the country. The author of the report, a top aide to Connally, had been fired shortly after the report was released. Connally was a good fighter, but he was not a good manager. He had been known for his ability to rally the troops, but his handling of the crisis had been lackluster. In the end, the hearing was a disaster, and Connally was forced to resign. WE WILL BE CLOSED MONDAY, MAY 25 IN OBSERVANCE OF MEMORIAL DAY.

The names of the great American heroes live on in our history books, always to be remembered. Yet on this Memorial Day we'll like to pay tribute to thousands of American heroes whose names we may not know, but whose efforts have made it possible for all of us to enjoy the many freedoms we have today. To all those brave soldiers, who paid with their bodies and souls, we pay our respects and offer our gratitude. Their contributions have not been forgotten.
