Commitment to a
Local newspaper sold to Westward

Western Communications, one of the nation's fast-growing newspaper companies, has acquired the Palo Alto Post and the Peninsula Times-Transient.

We believe this acquisition will enable Western to provide a better quality of life for the people of our community. It will give us the opportunity to serve our readers better by expanding our coverage and providing more in-depth reporting.

We appreciate your support and look forward to continuing to serve you with excellence.

Editorial

Thanks for many wonderful years

For the past 40 years, it has been my privilege to serve the readers of The Panola County Post, for it is an honor and a privilege to be a part of the fabric of this community.

Over the years, I have had the opportunity to witness the growth and change of this area, and it has been a pleasure to be a part of it.

As I reflect on my time here, I am grateful for the support of the community, and I am proud of the work that we have done together.

Thank you for your continued support, and I look forward to serving you for many more years to come.

Who is to blame for school woes?

It is time to place blame where it belongs

To have a strong education system, a number of factors are necessary. The top priority should be providing the necessary resources to support schools.

This includes adequate funding, qualified teachers, and a safe and healthy environment.

Trying to blame one individual or a few people for the state of our schools is not productive. It is time to look at the larger picture and work towards solutions that benefit all students.

Program efforts to unite families

Evangelist Paige T. Hudson will be holding an old-fashioned Gospel Tent Meeting this week.

The meetings will be held at the Panola County courthouse and will feature music and preaching.

Come out and join us for this wonderful event!

Host a Foreign Student

Each fall and in the United States, American colleges and universities take part in a unique program, known as the F1 visa, which allows foreign students to attend and study in the United States. The program is a great opportunity for students to gain knowledge and experience, and for host families to offer a warm and welcoming environment.

Reprinted Local History Book

The Panola County Post reprints the local history book that was published in 1980.

The book provides a wealth of information about the history of the county, and it is a wonderful resource for anyone interested in learning more about the area.

"I have real friends there. Willis-Knighton Rehab is like a second home to me."

Keith Partain

about Willis-Knighton's Rehab Center

A second home. That's a powerful image that conveys a sense of warmth, welcome, and familiarity. It is the feeling of being at home, away from the stress of daily life.

For Keith Partain of Willis-Knighton's Rehab Center, Willis-Knighton Rehab Center is just that. It is a place where he feels at home, where he can relax and focus on his recovery.

Keith came to us last year after a period of time in the hospital, and he said it felt like a second home. The staff and the environment were so welcoming and supportive, it made him feel like he could focus on his recovery without the distractions of the outside world.

Willis-Knighton's Rehab Center is a 100-bed facility located in Shreveport, Louisiana. It provides comprehensive, rehabilitative care for patients suffering from a variety of conditions, including stroke, brain injuries, and spinal cord injuries.

The center is staffed with experienced and dedicated professionals who work together to help patients achieve their goals and return to their daily lives.
