College to begin search

Board looking for McDaniel's replacement

Panas College Board of Trustees will meet this week to devise a plan for selecting a new president for the school.

The board met with a special college search committee on July 11. The board will discuss the preliminary selection of candidates, which will be presented to the college community on August 11.

Search committee members will include: Jane Knight, president of the college; Dr. John M. Bailey, director of admissions; Dr. William E. Tisdale, director of financial aid; and Dr. Robert L. White, director of student affairs.

Panas College has been without a president since Dr. Edward J. O'Sullivan resigned in May. He had been president for 24 years.

Terry Holland, assistant to the president, will serve as interim president until a new president is selected.

Professional rodeo returns to county

PRCA's best to shine this week

By CHARLES McCURRY

Editor

Show off your guns, power, trick riding, horse riding.

The 43rd annual Panas County
Cattleman's Association Rodeo
dates Thursday, Friday and Saturday, July 28, 29 and 30.

Ticket prices are $10 for the whole weekend, $7 on Thursday and $6 on Friday.

Tickets are available at the Panas Community Center and at the rodeo gates.

Radio programs will be available throughout the week, with special announcements and music playing.

The rodeo will feature events such as bareback riding, saddle bronc, steer wrestling, and bull riding.

A special feature of the rodeo will be the PRCA's best riders, who will compete for the top honors.

The rodeo is a major fundraiser for the Panas Community Center and the Panas Cattleman's Association.

County okays collection of GIDSTax rates

Boat ramp tabulated again

Panas County Commissioners Monday approved a contract between the county and the state to collect GIDSTax revenues for the town of Panas.

The GIDSTax revenue will be used for the construction of a boat ramp at the town's marina.

A special meeting was held to discuss the issues.

The Commissioners have reviewed the proposal and approved the collection of the GIDSTax.

The Overcomer
The life and times of Robbie Suttle

By CHARLES McLENNAN

The name, Robbie Suttle, means unique in the Panola County of Texas. He was born on March 20, 1908, and passed away on June 26, 1982. Robbie was a true Texas cowboy, a man of many talents and a friend to all who knew him.

Robbie was born in the town of Panola, where his father, Billy Suttle, was the local sheriff. Robbie grew up on the family farm and learned the art of horseback riding from a young age. He was known for his skill in horseback riding and was often seen competing in local rodeos.

Robbie married Juanita Suttle in 1930 and they had three children: Billy, Juanita, and Margaret. They lived on the family farm and raised cattle together. Robbie was a hard worker and always ensured that his family was taken care of.

Robbie was a devout Christian and attended church regularly. He was known for his kindness and always made time for his neighbors. He was also known for his sense of humor and was always ready with a joke.

Robbie passed away on June 26, 1982, but his legacy lives on. He was a true Texas cowboy and a friend to all who knew him. His memory will always be cherished by those who loved him.
Understanding CMOs before investing

Financial focus

by Paul Costabile

There’s a lot of talk right now about CMOs – but what are they, really? CMOs are the marketers who oversee the entire marketing function of a company. They are responsible for developing and implementing strategies to promote the company’s products or services, and they also work closely with other departments to ensure that marketing efforts align with the company’s overall business goals.

CMOs need to have a good understanding of their target audience, as well as the latest marketing trends and technologies. They must also be able to make data-driven decisions and work with teams across the organization to achieve their goals.

Carthage arena holds nostalgia for Gay

Gay, a cowboy for the National Finals Rodeo in Las Vegas, has been active in community events for several years as a partner in the renowned West Texas Rodeo Company, owned by his father, Nell Gay. Gay’s expertise quickly became highly respected, winning 14 titles at the National Finals Rodeo in Las Vegas from 1990 to 1997.

The PCCA Rodeo

The Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association is the oldest and largest rodeo-governing body in the world. The PCCA consists of a team of professional, paid rodeo cowboys who are committed to the sport of rodeo.

This year, the PCCA appears more than 750 riders throughout the United States and Canada. The PCCA provides a forum for rodeo cowboys to compete directly with the top riders in the world. The PCCA is the governing body for the Panola County Rodeo, which is held annually in Carthage.

Holland knows far more than bullriding

Tony Holland is not only known for his skills in bullriding, but also for his love of animals. The cattleman has been involved in the beef industry for over 30 years, and has a deep understanding of the role of animals in agriculture.

He also serves on the board of directors for the Panola County Cattlemens Association, which has been instrumental in promoting the cattle industry in the area. His dedication to the cattle industry is evident in his work with various organizations and groups that promote the welfare of animals.

Holland is a member of the Panola County Cattlemens Association, which hosts various events throughout the year, such as rodeos, cattle shows, and farmers' markets. These events not only promote the cattle industry, but also bring the community together.

In conclusion, Tony Holland's dedication to the cattle industry is evident in his work with various organizations and groups that promote the welfare of animals. His love for animals and his expertise in the cattle industry make him a valuable asset to the community.
Schmutz returns to Panola County rodeo

Randy Schmutz, a Texas cowboy, has brought a host of professional teaching and training skills to Panola County. Now living in Carthage, Schmutz is making several changes, including the addition of both a rodeo and an animal clinic. He has been invited by the Panola County Cattlemen’s Association to return to Panola County as a professional roper and trainer. Schmutz began his professional career in California during the 1970s, making him one of the oldest active professional ropers in the country.

Panola County.linear, but I was excited. But then he told me that I was going to be the main attraction of the event, which would keep the kidz happy and encourage them to participate in equestrian sports. I was a bit nervous, but he was really kind. He dressed me up in equestrian clothing and told me how to perform. I’m excited to see how it goes. I’ve been practicing on my own, but this will be a chance to show off my skills. I’m looking forward to it!

Animals should be treated humanely, with dignity

A philosophy shared by all equestrians is that animals should be treated humanely and with dignity. The Panola County Cattlemen’s Association supports this philosophy and encourages all participants in the Panola County Rodeo to follow it. The Panola County Cattlemen’s Association (PCCA) is committed to the well-being of all animals and seeks to promote a culture of respect and kindness towards all living creatures.
