Museum opens amid celebration

By LAURA NERGOS

Changes are unhappy to the "amazing" presence of Panola Colle.

Last week, in the president, Dr. Charles Higginbotham, was one of 10 recommended candidates. This week, the college announced that Dr. Higginbotham would be confirmed as president.

Last week, in the campus community, the announcement of the selection of Dr. Higginbotham as president was met with excitement and anticipation. The college has been searching for a new president for several months, and the announcement was seen as a positive step forward.

Dr. Higginbotham brings a wealth of experience and leadership to the presidency, having served as provost and vice president for academic affairs at a number of institutions. He is a well-known figure in higher education, and his appointment is expected to bring stability and growth to the college.

In addition to his academic experience, Dr. Higginbotham is also a strong advocate for student success and has implemented initiatives to support student retention and success. His leadership is expected to foster a culture of innovation and collaboration, driving the college forward into the future.

The announcement was met with joy and celebration by students, faculty, and staff alike. There was a sense of pride and excitement in knowing that their college was選出了一位有才华和能力的领导者。他的到来将为学院带来新的机遇和挑战，期待他在未来的工作中取得更大的成就。

The next step in the process will be for the college to work with Dr. Higginbotham to develop a strategic plan for the future. This plan will guide the college in setting priorities and making decisions to ensure its continued success.

Overall, the announcement of Dr. Higginbotham’s appointment as president is seen as a positive development for Panola College and its students and community. It is a testament to the college’s commitment to excellence and its dedication to providing a high-quality education for its students.

"Trivial Facts"

Texas has had more than its share of action and tough times. During the late 1880s, one of the biggest was the Texas Cattle War. Known as the "Herd Rebellion of the Rio Grande," this conflict was between cattlemen and Mexican cattlemen in the region. It was a struggle for control of the cattle industry and the rights of the cattle herders. The war continued for several years and resulted in the deaths of many men and the loss of livestock. It was eventually settled through negotiations and compromise. The war is remembered as a seminal event in the history of the development of the cattle industry in Texas.

Senator Bill Ratliff is named one of the 10 best legislators in the state by Texas Monthly.

In Northeast Texas, we weren't a bit surprised.

Texas Monthly doesn't hand out kind words very lightly. So when it called Bill Ratliff "a total free man - free of partisanship, free of agenda, free of politics," free of all the usual dirty tricks, free to act as every senator should but few actually do it, we weren't a bit surprised. But folks in Northeast Texas already knew that Bill is a great senator.

Bill Ratliff has been representing this district for four years. He is an ethical, smart, conservative senator who cares about the human side of every issue. He has listened to the wants and needs of his constituents and has responded to their needs. He has achieved his goals in the area. He has helped reform the rules for our field and is playing a major role in the overhaul of school finance. He has earned our vote.
Ritter band hits a chord

The recent publication of a book about the history of the Ritter High School band has sparked interest in the tradition and legacy of the band. The book, written by band director George Sams and historian Susan LeBlanc, chronicles the band's history from its founding in 1928 to the present day. The book includes interviews with former band members, photographs, and musical scores, providing a comprehensive look at the band's evolution.

The book is available at local bookstores and online retailers. For more information, visit the band's website at www.ritterbandhistory.com.

Letter to the editor

Dear Editor:

I wanted to take a moment to express my appreciation for the efforts of the Ritter High School band. As a former member of the band, I have fond memories of the time spent with my fellow students and the musical experience it provided.

As the band continues to evolve, I hope that the tradition of excellence and community spirit will continue to thrive. Thank you for your dedication to the band and the school.

Sincerely,

EF Elementary announces honor rolls

The Panola Watchman

First Things First

BY JULIA RIGGS

One of the debates that arises in any discussion about education is whether or not elementary schools should have honor rolls. Some argue that honor rolls are a form of pressure that can lead to students feeling anxious about their performance, while others believe that honor rolls can motivate students to do their best. Ultimately, it is up to each school district to decide what is best for their students.

Four crimes solved

A group of students recently solved a series of crimes in the town of Carthage. The group, led by Detective Williams, was able to solve four cases in just one week. Williams said that the group was able to solve the cases quickly because they worked together as a team. The group is currently working on several other cases and is expected to solve more crimes in the near future.

The Sheriff's Report

By Commander JACOB BARTON

This week, the Sheriff's Office was able to solve four cases in just one week. The cases involved crimes ranging from petty theft to armed robbery. The Sheriff's Office would like to thank the community for their support and cooperation.

Art comes to life

Engravings depict medieval life

By LAURIE ROUSE

Getting a closer glimpse to the medieval life of the past is a goal of the exhibit Art Comes to Life that is currently housed at the Long Beach Museum of Art. The exhibit is a collection of prints that were done in the 19th century and it is being displayed at the museum through January 15. The prints are of various artists and depict scenes of medieval life. The exhibit also includes a collection of prints that were done in the 19th century and were inspired by the works of medieval art. The exhibit is open to the public and is free to attend. The museum is located at 300 E Ocean Blvd, Long Beach, CA 90802.

Carthage brings No. 1 rating to town Friday

Cat say they can play with anybody

By CHUCK PITRIST

Carthage came to town Friday night and the No. 1 rated Cats were looking to extend their winning streak to six games. Carthage was coming off a 47-0 shutout of Midland Christian and was looking to maintain their top ranking. The Cats were led by quarterback Ben Kennedy, who threw for 370 yards and four touchdowns in the win. Carthage took on the No. 1 ranked Carthage in the game and the Cats looked to prove they could play with anybody.
