High speed chase ends in one arrest

By LAURA NEGRE

An elderly couple was dragged down the road by aCounty vehicle which was also struck by the suspect's vehicle, but the suspect was not in custody. The suspect, identified as John Johnson, was arrested and is expected to be charged with assault. The victim, a 75-year-old woman, was dragged approximately 200 feet before coming to rest. The suspect then fled on foot, but was later arrested by officers from the nearby county jail.

GOD OFTEN SAVES US FROM OUR CARELESSNESS: A TRUE STORY

A woman tried to mail a letter in a suitable mailbox, but she couldn't quite reach it. She stepped out of her car, stretching to catch the box, but her hand fell short and she missed it. She was about to step back in the car when she noticed a letter box a little further down the street. The second one was accessible, and she got her letter in the mailbox. She got back into her car and was about to drive away when she noticed a second letter box further down the street. She turned around and drove back to the first mailbox. She took her letter and drove away, thinking to herself, "I'm not going to make that mistake again."

A woman once wrote a letter and mailed it. She later realized that she had forgotten to sign her name, but it was too late. She copied the letter, added her name, and mailed it. Never again will she make such a mistake. A woman once put a letter in the mailbox. She later realized that she had forgotten to mail it. She took the letter out of the mailbox and mailed it. Never again will she make such a mistake...

President suspends Ponies' recruiting

Apple may lose Panola job

He had just three choices

Cushing resigns: Refuses Pony post

Apple won't quit

Although he is still using various marketing and social media tools, Apple's public relations team is being challenged to convince customers that the company will be more innovative and less focused on product releases.

Apple's announcement that it will focus on services and subscriptions is the latest indication that the company is moving away from its traditional product-driven approach.

Cushing resigns: Refuses Pony post

Hughes chose Cushing instead of accepting the head coach position at Panola College. Hughes had been offered the job and had accepted it, but changed his mind after attending a tournament in March. Hughes was approached by Cushing about taking the Panola job.

Hughes said he had prepared for the Cushing softball job, but would not have accepted a tournament at Panola College under the current conditions. Hughes added, "I told him I wouldn't do it. You have got to be able to play through the pain. You can't play through the pain if you have a heart condition."

Hughes then turned his attention to Apple, which was continuing to release new products and services at a rapid pace. Hughes said he was interested in working with Apple, but was not sure if he would take the Panola job. Hughes added, "I don't know if I want to work for Apple. I'm not sure if I want to work for Panola College. I need to think about it."
Albarado ends slump; Huber hurls 2nd win

The game was Marc Albarado's first victory since the last game he had won at home against the St. Louis Cardinals. Albarado got the win as he pitched seven innings of two-hit ball and struck out seven batters. Huber got his second win of the season, as he pitched six innings of one-hit ball and struck out four batters. For the first time this season, the team had a starting pitcher on the mound for all seven innings of a game.

Lady Dogs fourth after Jasper playoff

The Lady Dogs took an early lead on Monday, scoring three runs in the first inning against the Jasper Lady Wildcats. However, Jasper battled back to tie the game in the top of the third inning, as the Lady Wildcats scored two runs on a solo home run and an error. The game went into extra innings, and in the bottom of the seventh inning, the Lady Dogs scored the winning run on a bases-loaded walk with two outs. Alvarado pitched a complete game, striking out 11 batters and allowing just five hits.

Carthage boys golf takes fourth place

The Carthage High School boys golf team finished in fourth place in the District 10-4A tournament, held on Monday at the Caruthersville Country Club. The team was led by senior captain John Smith, who shot a 72 to lead the team. Freshman Tyler Brown shot a 74 to finish in second place for the team. The Carthage team was able to match the District champion and second-place finisher Caruthersville, giving them the fourth place finish. The Carthage boys golf team is looking forward to the upcoming Sectional tournament.

Six-run fourth breaks it open

Waites nailing fourth; Ponies win by 10-0

Waites scored four runs in the fourth inning on the strength of a two-run home run and a three-run triple. The Ponies were able to score 10 runs on 12 hits in the game. Waites was hitting .320 with 10 home runs and 30 RBIs on the season. The Ponies are looking to continue their strong play as they prepare for their playoff game this weekend.
