Second graders learn about trading

By Little Miss

"We did something new this year," begins Little Miss, a second grade teacher. "We started trading with other classes. It was really fun!"

"I sold my toys and bought some new ones from them," adds Jamie, one of the students.

"And we learned about value," says Little Miss. "The more something costs, the more trading power it has."

GOD'S LOVE HAS TINTED THE SOFT PASTEL SHADES OF SPRING

The winter winds have blown away And bony breezes fill the air. The sun, with every warming ray, Brings grass that's sprouting everywhere. The birds sing, and Ahab snores, And later give a welcome shake. White clouds get warmer by degrees And birds perform their benedictions. The leaves give their lovely count And gorgeous butterflies abound. A time for wonderful wonder That comes with every sight and sound. Your Nose of Worship will possess The beauty that this time will bring. And show God's love, which will convey A world that comes alive in spring.

—Gloria Novak

Our Lord has written the promise of resurrection. In every day of springtime.

—Martin Luther
