Thomas resigns; BISD hires coach

Beckville Secondary School Principal Ed Thomas has resigned for a position as principal of Jourdanton High School. The resignation was accepted during special meeting of Beckville Independent School Board Thursday.

"It is with a sad heart that Beckville has lost a great principal," Thomas said. The people of Beckville have been wonderful and the faculty and administration have been very supportive. There are a lot of people here that will be missed and we are not an unnecessary departure."

There is no word yet on the search for Thomas' replacement. However, the search is expected to take place as soon as possible.

Early voting ends Tuesday

City of Quitman will hold its final early voting day for the city council and bond election this Tuesday at the Quitman City Hall. The last day to vote early will be Tuesday, March 25.

CISD seeks opinion

Community members are being asked to provide feedback on a proposed change to the CISD athletic programs. The proposed change would affect the number and type of sports offered by the district.

Collection firm hired

The city of Quitman has hired a collection firm to help collect delinquent property taxes. The firm, WC&J, will be responsible for identifying and pursuing delinquent property taxes in the city.

No charges filed yet in shooting

Domestic differences turned deadly Wednesday, leaving Beckville High School Principal Ed Thomas dead. Thomas, who was shot and killed, was married to his wife, Janie, who also works at the school. The shooting occurred just hours after the two were involved in a verbal argument at their home.

According to law enforcement sources, the shooting occurred during an argument over a disagreement about the school's dress code. Thomas had allegedly threatened to fire the teacher who was responsible for enforcing the dress code.

Get the most from home electricity

You can save electricity and help protect the environment by using energy-efficient appliances and devices. Here are some tips:

1. Choose energy-efficient appliances: Look for products with ENERGY STAR labels, which indicate that they meet strict energy efficiency guidelines set by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

2. Use lights wisely: Replace incandescent bulbs with LED or CFL (compact fluorescent) bulbs, which use up to 80% less energy. Consider using motion-activated lighting in areas that are not frequently used.

3. Turn off lights and electronics when not in use: Unplug devices when they are not in use, and turn off lights in rooms that are not occupied.

4. Insulate your home: Proper insulation helps keep your home warm in the winter and cool in the summer, reducing the need for heating and cooling.

5. Use power strips: Use power strips with switches to turn off all connected devices when they are not in use.

6. Upgrade to a smart thermostat: A programmable thermostat can save you money on your energy bills by adjusting the temperature when you are not home.

7. Fix leaky doors and windows: Air leaks can waste energy, so make sure your doors and windows are well-sealed.

8. Use energy-efficient cooling: Consider a heat pump or a high-efficiency air conditioner to reduce energy consumption.

9. Maintain your appliances: Regular maintenance can help keep your appliances running efficiently and save energy.

10. Consider renewable energy: If possible, install solar panels or a wind turbine to generate your own energy.

By following these tips, you can help reduce your energy consumption and save money on your utility bills.

Bulbflowers send heavenly fragrance

Spring flowers bring a sense of renewal and joy. One of the earliest signs of spring is the appearance of bulbflowers, also known as snowdrops. These small, white flowers sprout from bulbs that have been dormant throughout the winter. Their delicate petals and3
Garden serves many purposes for Durrett

One can’t help but look at the home of Paul and Janice Durrett in Wellington Estates in Carthage and not be impressed by the sheer beauty of the yard.

And one doesn’t have to be biased, Mr. Durrett is too, for the house, it is said, was designed by him.

From Arruda in teracotta, Mrs. Durrett has gone it.

The Durrett’s own 43 acres of the ranching portion, but one is hard pressed to believe every square foot is in the yard.

Mrs. Durrett estimates it to be 1,050 feet.

"It's hard to estimate," Mrs. Durrett says.

That Mrs. Durrett says "with a smile," is no proof of it, but God has been good to us and he makes everything grow.

Keeping her sentiments straight, Mrs. Durrett said, "I am not a gardener the way [Mr.] Durrett is a gardener." "I am not a very nervous type of woman," Mrs. Durrett modestly says. "I am not a gardener the way [Mr.] Durrett is a gardener."

"The garden, it has been in the yard before retirement. For many years, in the garden was Mrs. Durrett's home from the world. She spent much of her weekends with her hands in the soil." "I am not a gardener," Mrs. Durrett explains on the point, "I am not a gardener as I am not a gardener."
