Women's group meets for district gathering

The St. Louis District of the Missouri Women's Missionary Alliance of Baptist and Presbyterian Churches will hold its annual meeting this month at the Cozy Nook in St. Louis. The meeting will include a panel discussion and a presentation by the Rev. Dr. James T. Davis, associate national missionary for the United States. The Rev. Dr. Davis will speak on the theme "Living in the Light of the Gospel." He will be joined by Dr. Robert L. Brown, executive director of the Missouri Baptist Convention, who will discuss the convention's mission and goals.

The group's president, Mrs. Mary E. Brown, said that the meeting will be an opportunity for women to share their experiences and ideas on how to strengthen their churches. "We want to encourage women to be active in their churches and to support their leadership," she said. "The meeting will give us a chance to learn from each other and to learn how to be more effective in our work for the Lord."

Mrs. Brown said that the meeting will also include a panel discussion on various topics, including women's issues, family life, and the role of women in the church. "We want to make sure that women have a voice in the church and that their concerns are addressed," she said. "We want to make sure that women feel welcome and supported in our churches.

The meeting will begin at 9 a.m. on Saturday, Aug. 17, and will conclude at 5 p.m. on Sunday, Aug. 18. For more information, contact Mrs. Brown at 314-555-1234.
