Boren, Craig share books on family histories

By Mrs. Leslie R. LeCroy

Mr. Thomas B. Boren wrote a book on his family history and his book was published in 1950. The book, which he called "Our Family History," was written to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the birth of his grandfather, Thomas B. Boren. It is a comprehensive genealogical work that includes information on the Boren family from the early 19th century to the present day.

BRADENTON, Fla. — The Bradenton Historical Society will hold a presentation on the history of the Boren family on Saturday, March 10, at 2 p.m. at the society's headquarters in downtown Bradenton. The presentation will be given by Mr. Boren himself, who will discuss the history and heritage of the family.

Craig Boren, who is the great-grandson of Thomas B. Boren, has recently published a book on the family history titled "The Boren Family: A Genealogical Journey." The book is a detailed account of the family's history, covering several generations. It includes information on the family's origins, achievements, and contributions to society.

The presentation will be accompanied by a display of family memorabilia, including photographs, documents, and other items related to the Boren family. The event is free and open to the public. For more information, contact the Bradenton Historical Society at 941-747-1879.

School Preparation Is More Than Just Clothes And Books

As everyone knows, summer vacation is nearly over. It's time to get the children ready for school, and that means not only replacing their clothes and having their eyes examined, but preparing them for the rigors of the classroom. After three months of unstructured fun, games can be a difficult adjustment for them to make, so it's up to the parents, not the school, to remind them of such things as responsibility and respect for authority. The parents must also warn the children to beware of the evils to which they may be subjected; drugs, gang activities, crime and strangers offering them rides.

With the start of the Sunday school at the House of Worship, the real values they will learn will ensure their school year will be a safe, happy, harmonious and truly productive educational experience.

Let they child's first lesson be obedience, and the later lessons will be easier to teach.

—Benjamin Franklin
