CED leaves costly local tax legacy

The Panola County Court in Carthage has petitioned the State of Texas for the return of its local tax money. In 1992, the Court was awarded a total of $125,882 for 1989 and 1990, which it alleges was due to the lack of a clear legal authority for the tax. The Court has stated that it would be unable to continue to operate without the return of this money.

Perry comes here Monday

Texas Agriculture Commissioner Dick Perry will spend a day in Carthage on Monday, Aug. 13. Perry will visit the Panola County Courthouse and meet with local government officials to discuss issues affecting the county. Perry has been a strong advocate for increased funding for the state's counties, including a $125,882 award for 1989 and 1990.

Blood drive builds supply

Panola County residents are encouraged to donate blood. A blood drive will be held on this Friday, Aug. 12, in Carthage. The drive is organized by the American Red Cross and is open to the public. Donors are asked to bring photo identification and are encouraged to bring a friend.

Medical building site selected

A medical office building will be constructed on an approximately 75,000 square foot site in Carthage. The site is located on South Main Street, near the intersection with East Washington Avenue. The site has been selected by the Panola County Medical Society and the Panola County Physicians Association.

PGH second floor welcomes Swate

The second floor of the Panola General Hospital will be opened to the public on Aug. 15. The new facilities include an expanded emergency department, a new surgical suite, and additional patient rooms. The hospital has been expanding its services in recent years, and this expansion is part of its ongoing effort to meet the needs of the local community.

Panola unemployment rate dips slightly

The unemployment rate in Panola County has decreased from 7.3% in June to 7.0% in July. The decrease is attributed to a decrease in the number of people classified as unemployed. The rate is still higher than the state average of 4.7%.
Tax planning needed for the higher-income group

By Bruce Miller

If you are in the higher-income group and have been told to plan for the future, you may want to talk to a professional. There are many factors to consider when planning for your financial future. Here are some tips:

1. The estate tax: If you have property worth more than $1 million, you may want to consider a trust. A trust can help you avoid paying estate taxes on your property.
2. The gift tax: If you give gifts to your children or grandchildren, you may want to consider giving them property in a trust. This will help you avoid paying gift taxes on your property.
3. The income tax: If you are in the higher-income group, you may want to consider implementing a retirement plan. This will help you save money and avoid paying income taxes.

We Should All Continue To Pray For Peace On Earth

We had all hoped that with the downfall of most of the world's totalitarian regimes, we finally see an era of true peace, freedom and brotherhood. Instead, in recent months, we have witnessed such horror as terrorism, ethnic wars, civil wars, human rights atrocities, mass starvation, and economic depression. There is little that we, as private citizens, can do to help change things except to tell our elected officials what actions we want them to take. However, we can always go to our House of Worship and pray that whenever tragic events occur, they will be quickly resolved in the proper manner, and that no new ones will develop. Let us remember that the power of prayer, when exercised by enough of us, can be a very effective remedy for all of the world's ills.
