Drug dollars fight crime

Taxpayers reap benefits from forfeited assets

Drug dealers and other criminals, stopped in Panola County drug raids, are providing funds for the police who hunt and prosecute them.

An arrest this month will mean money for the excavation of a large pool of drug dealers, but taxpayers.

Panola County has scheduled 12 raids and seizures of illegal assets to begin on October 1, 1993. Proceeds from the auctions, which may last up to 90 days, are available to the county's police force and the District Attorney's Office.

The seized cash allows the department to strengthen its enforcement efforts, said Lt. Tom Rankin. In the past, the cash was used to finance equipment and supplies for county law enforcement agencies.

"This money is going to be spent on salaries for the officers who are making these arrests," Rankin said.

Library wins $3,400 grant

Funds to combat adult illiteracy

Local libraries have received a $3,400 grant to combat adult illiteracy. The grant will be used to purchase books and reading materials for adults with reading difficulties.

The grant was awarded to the Panola County Library Council by the Alabama Library Association (ALA) for the purpose of supporting the development of literacy programs.

The library will use the grant to purchase books and reading materials for adults with reading difficulties. The library will also use the grant to provide training and professional development opportunities for library staff.

The library will work closely with community organizations to identify and serve adults with reading difficulties. The library will also use the grant to conduct outreach activities to draw attention to the availability of literacy services.

Fire safety saves lives

Education stressed during October

The monthly Fire Prevention Campaign is underway in Panola County, with a focus on educating the public about fire safety.

The campaign is being led by the Fire Department and the Panola County Sheriff's Office. The campaign aims to increase awareness of fire safety and reduce the risk of fires.

The campaign includes a variety of educational programs, such as home safety checks, smoke detector installations, and fire safety tips.

The campaign is also supported by local organizations, such as the Panola County Chamber of Commerce and the Panola County Education Association.

ROCKING CHAIR SPECIAL HONOR FOR MISS MARGIE NEAL

By Jenea Smith

Miss Margie Neal, a resident of Rocking Chair, was honored with a special recognition during a ceremony held at the Rocking Chair Historical Society meeting on October 4th. The ceremony was attended by family, friends, and members of the historical society.

Miss Neal, who has been a resident of Rocking Chair for over 50 years, was presented with a special plaque and a rocking chair as a token of appreciation for her contributions to the community. The ceremony was hosted by the Rocking Chair Historical Society, which aims to preserve and celebrate the history of the town.

Miss Neal was recognized for her dedication to the community and her contributions to various local organizations. She has been a member of the Historical Society for over 20 years and has volunteered her time to preserve the history of Rocking Chair.

She has also been a member of the Rocking Chair Women's Club and has served as a volunteer at the local hospital. Miss Neal's community service has been recognized with various awards, including the Community Service Award from the Rocking Chair Chamber of Commerce.

The ceremony was attended by family members, including her husband, Mr. Robert Neal, and their children, who expressed their pride and gratitude for their mother's contributions. They also thanked the Historical Society for honoring their mother.

The Rocking Chair Historical Society plans to continue recognizing community members for their contributions in the future.
