Weekend accident claims two lives

Sunday afternoon accident claims the lives of two people in Prince County and injured others.

Police revealed services had been called for Chad Cagle, center of Carville, who was scheduled to be back home from Minnesota late Saturday and a scheduled 11 a.m. today for his job. He was in Carville Community Bank.

Cook and Kelly were killed in a head-on collision that occurred at about 2:15 p.m., 1 mile north of the village. According to a source familiar with Cook's condition Monday at L 듣 Medical Center, he was in critical condition Monday morning and in stable condition Monday afternoon before surgery to repair his broken leg and other injuries.

May 10, 1993, Chad Cagle, 19, of New London, was killed in a head-on collision Monday at L 듣 Medical Center. The cause of death was head injuries sustained in the accident. The identity of the other victim was not released.

Additional details were provided Tuesday afternoon by the Neenah Police Department.

Cook and Kelly were both in the roadway as the car they were driving was hit head-on by another vehicle.

Cook was a junior at Neenah High School and Kelly was a senior.

Weekend accident claims the lives of two people in Prince County and injured others.

City okays ladder fire truck

Insurance rates expected to decline

Drug task force funding nixed

BHS, CHS graduation Friday

Classmates mourn child's death

Weekend accident claims two lives

Drug task force funding nixed

Prince County Commissioners in a 3-2 vote Monday, declined to fund the Drug Task Force in 1994. Under the proposals, the task force would have been funded at a cost of $17,500.

Prince County Sheriff Jack Elliott had sought the board's approval for the funding of the task force. He said it was critical to Prince County that the task force continue its work.

Other commissioners rejected the idea, citing the $17,500 would come from a fund set aside for drug use.

Commissioners Barbara Johnson and Paul Redeker were in favor of the funding.

The drug task force was initiated in 1991, with an initial budget of $20,000. Since then, the task force has been funded from a variety of sources.

City okays ladder fire truck

City okays ladder fire truck

Insurance rates expected to decline

Drug task force funding nixed

BHS, CHS graduation Friday

Classmates mourn child's death

Weekend accident claims two lives

Drug task force funding nixed

Prince County Commissioners in a 3-2 vote Monday, declined to fund the Drug Task Force in 1994. Under the proposals, the task force would have been funded at a cost of $17,500.

Prince County Sheriff Jack Elliott had sought the board's approval for the funding of the task force. He said it was critical to Prince County that the task force continue its work.

Other commissioners rejected the idea, citing the $17,500 would come from a fund set aside for drug use.

Commissioners Barbara Johnson and Paul Redeker were in favor of the funding.

The drug task force was initiated in 1991, with an initial budget of $20,000. Since then, the task force has been funded from a variety of sources.

City okays ladder fire truck

City okays ladder fire truck

Insurance rates expected to decline

Drug task force funding nixed

BHS, CHS graduation Friday

Classmates mourn child's death
Congressional race required deep pockets
State Capitol HIGHLIGHTS by Leland Williams & Ed Sterling

Congressional candidates must control the enthusiasm of the masses. They must know how to work the crowd, how to put on a show, how to make people think they’re going to win. They must also have a lot of money. A lot of money. A lot of money, Jack Field, a top ADL (American donations League) fund raiser, told the Congress last week.

"You can’t win a Congressional race without a lot of money," said Field.
"There are too many people to reach, too many issues to cover, too many people to influence. You need a lot of money to do it." Field pointed out that the average Congressional candidate spends about $20,000 in the primary election and about $100,000 in the general election.

"And that’s just the beginning," said Field. "You also need
money to run TV ads, to hire pollsters, to print flyers, to pay staffers. It’s a big operation. You need a lot of money." Field said that the average Congressional candidate spends about $200,000 in the primary election and about $1,000,000 in the general election.

"And that’s just the beginning," said Field. "You also need
money to run TV ads, to hire pollsters, to print flyers, to pay staffers. It’s a big operation. You need a lot of money."

Field said that the average Congressional candidate spends about $200,000 in the primary election and about $1,000,000 in the general election.

"And that’s just the beginning," said Field. "You also need
money to run TV ads, to hire pollsters, to print flyers, to pay
staffers. It’s a big operation. You need a lot of money."

Field said that the average Congressional candidate spends about
$200,000 in the primary election and about $1,000,000 in the general election.

"And that’s just the beginning," said Field. "You also need
money to run TV ads, to hire pollsters, to print flyers, to pay
staffers. It’s a big operation. You need a lot of money."

Field said that the average Congressional candidate spends about
$200,000 in the primary election and about $1,000,000 in the general election.

"And that’s just the beginning," said Field. "You also need
money to run TV ads, to hire pollsters, to print flyers, to pay
staffers. It’s a big operation. You need a lot of money."

Field said that the average Congressional candidate spends about
$200,000 in the primary election and about $1,000,000 in the general election.

"And that’s just the beginning," said Field. "You also need
money to run TV ads, to hire pollsters, to print flyers, to pay
staffers. It’s a big operation. You need a lot of money."

Field said that the average Congressional candidate spends about
$200,000 in the primary election and about $1,000,000 in the general election.

"And that’s just the beginning," said Field. "You also need
money to run TV ads, to hire pollsters, to print flyers, to pay
staffers. It’s a big operation. You need a lot of money."

Field said that the average Congressional candidate spends about
$200,000 in the primary election and about $1,000,000 in the general election.

"And that’s just the beginning," said Field. "You also need
money to run TV ads, to hire pollsters, to print flyers, to pay
staffers. It’s a big operation. You need a lot of money."

Field said that the average Congressional candidate spends about
$200,000 in the primary election and about $1,000,000 in the general election.

"And that’s just the beginning," said Field. "You also need
money to run TV ads, to hire pollsters, to print flyers, to pay
staffers. It’s a big operation. You need a lot of money."

Field said that the average Congressional candidate spends about $200,000 in the primary election and about $1,000,000 in the general
election.

"And that’s just the beginning," said Field. "You also need
money to run TV ads, to hire pollsters, to print flyers, to pay
staffers. It’s a big operation. You need a lot of money."

Field said that the average Congressional candidate spends about $200,000 in the primary election and about $1,000,000 in the general election.

"And that’s just the beginning," said Field. "You also need
money to run TV ads, to hire pollsters, to print flyers, to pay
staffers. It’s a big operation. You need a lot of money."

Field said that the average Congressional candidate spends about $200,000 in the primary election and about $1,000,000 in the general election.

"And that’s just the beginning," said Field. "You also need
money to run TV ads, to hire pollsters, to print flyers, to pay
staffers. It’s a big operation. You need a lot of money."

Field said that the average Congressional candidate spends about $200,000 in the primary election and about $1,000,000 in the general election.

"And that’s just the beginning," said Field. "You also need
money to run TV ads, to hire pollsters, to print flyers, to pay
staffers. It’s a big operation. You need a lot of money."

Field said that the average Congressional candidate spends about $200,000 in the primary election and about $1,000,000 in the general election.

"And that’s just the beginning," said Field. "You also need
money to run TV ads, to hire pollsters, to print flyers, to pay
staffers. It’s a big operation. You need a lot of money."

Field said that the average Congressional candidate spends about $200,000 in the primary election and about $1,000,000 in the general election.

"And that’s just the beginning," said Field. "You also need
money to run TV ads, to hire pollsters, to print flyers, to pay
staffers. It’s a big operation. You need a lot of money."

Field said that the average Congressional candidate spends about
$200,000 in the primary election and about $1,000,000 in the general election.

"And that’s just the beginning," said Field. "You also need
money to run TV ads, to hire pollsters, to print flyers, to pay
staffers. It’s a big operation. You need a lot of money."

Field said that the average Congressional candidate spends about
$200,000 in the primary election and about $1,000,000 in the general election.

"And that’s just the beginning," said Field. "You also need
money to run TV ads, to hire pollsters, to print flyers, to pay
staffers. It’s a big operation. You need a lot of money."

Field said that the average Congressional candidate spends about
$200,000 in the primary election and about $1,000,000 in the general election.

"And that’s just the beginning," said Field. "You also need
money to run TV ads, to hire pollsters, to print flyers, to pay
staffers. It’s a big operation. You need a lot of money."

Field said that the average Congressional candidate spends about
$200,000 in the primary election and about $1,000,000 in the general election.

"And that’s just the beginning," said Field. "You also need
money to run TV ads, to hire pollsters, to print flyers, to pay
staffers. It’s a big operation. You need a lot of money."

Field said that the average Congressional candidate spends about
$200,000 in the primary election and about $1,000,000 in the general election.

"And that’s just the beginning," said Field. "You also need
money to run TV ads, to hire pollsters, to print flyers, to pay
staffers. It’s a big operation. You need a lot of money."

Field said that the average Congressional candidate spends about
$200,000 in the primary election and about $1,000,000 in the general election.

"And that’s just the beginning," said Field. "You also need
money to run TV ads, to hire pollsters, to print flyers, to pay
staffers. It’s a big operation. You need a lot of money."

Field said that the average Congressional candidate spends about
$200,000 in the primary election and about $1,000,000 in the general election.

"And that’s just the beginning," said Field. "You also need
money to run TV ads, to hire pollsters, to print flyers, to pay
staffers. It’s a big operation. You need a lot of money."

Field said that the average Congressional candidate spends about
$200,000 in the primary election and about $1,000,000 in the general election.

"And that’s just the beginning," said Field. "You also need
money to run TV ads, to hire pollsters, to print flyers, to pay
staffers. It’s a big operation. You need a lot of money."

Field said that the average Congressional candidate spends about
$200,000 in the primary election and about $1,000,000 in the general election.

"And that’s just the beginning," said Field. "You also need
money to run TV ads, to hire pollsters, to print flyers, to pay
staffers. It’s a big operation. You need a lot of money."

Field said that the average Congressional candidate spends about
$200,000 in the primary election and about $1,000,000 in the general election.

"And that’s just the beginning," said Field. "You also need
money to run TV ads, to hire pollsters, to print flyers, to pay
staffers. It’s a big operation. You need a lot of money."

Field said that the average Congressional candidate spends about
$200,000 in the primary election and about $1,000,000 in the general election.

"And that’s just the beginning," said Field. "You also need
money to run TV ads, to hire pollsters, to print flyers, to pay
staffers. It’s a big operation. You need a lot of money."

Field said that the average Congressional candidate spends about
$200,000 in the primary election and about $1,000,000 in the general election.

"And that’s just the beginning," said Field. "You also need
money to run TV ads, to hire pollsters, to print flyers, to pay
staffers. It’s a big operation. You need a lot of money."

Field said that the average Congressional candidate spends about
$200,000 in the primary election and about $1,000,000 in the general election.

"And that’s just the beginning," said Field. "You also need
money to run TV ads, to hire pollsters, to print flyers, to pay
staffers. It’s a big operation. You need a lot of money."

Field said that the average Congressional candidate spends about
$200,000 in the primary election and about $1,000,000 in the general election.

"And that’s just the beginning," said Field. "You also need
money to run TV ads, to hire pollsters, to print flyers, to pay
staffers. It’s a big operation. You need a lot of money."

Field said that the average Congressional candidate spends about
$200,000 in the primary election and about $1,000,000 in the general
election.
Beckville Athletic Awards

For More Beckville Athletic and Scholarship Awards See Pages 6A and 12A

FISH DAY
Friday, June 3rd - 10:30 - 11:30 am
- PAYS FOR STOCKING 4 Fax: 903-882-2900
- Black Crappie + Wanch 95

CAREMORE AG & VET
Carthage, Wi - 693-6741

Can Chiropractic Help Me? How Much Will It Cost?
We are often asked the best way of treating any condition, whether or not to a special doctor or medical clinic may be considered.

Nonsurgical care can include chiropractic manipulation and exercises, including stretches

For more information, please call

Dr. Dennis Dube
500 W. State Suite B Carthage, Texas

If you are experiencing any of these symptoms, call our office today for an appointment

693-3664

Radney Chiropractic Office
Dr. Dennis Dube
500 W. State Suite B Carthage, Texas
Chief Executive Officers of the member hospitals of Healthcare Partners of East Texas, Inc. are (from left to right) Emerson G. Ellis, Tyler; Jack C. Bailey, Lufkin; Jim Richardson, Nacogdoches; and Jerry D. Adair, Longview.

Hospitals within Healthcare Partners of East Texas Inc. include the following:

Sponsoring Members
East Texas Medical Center (Tyler)
- Good Shepherd Medical Center (Longview)
Memorial Medical Center of East Texas (Lufkin)

Hospital District Member
Nacogdoches Memorial Hospital

Associate Hospitals
East Texas Medical Center Athens
East Texas Medical Center Mt. Vernon
East Texas Medical Center Pittsburg
East Texas Medical Center Rusk

Contracting Hospitals
Henderson Memorial Hospital
Land Memorial Hospital (Vigorous)
Memorial Hospital of Center
Pantego General Hospital (Derthapa)
St. Michael Hospital (Tewakaska)
Trinity Valley Medical Center (Rusk) University Park Hospital (Tyler)
Wood County Central Hospital (Quinlan)

The nation’s system of healthcare delivery is at a crossroads. Rather than wait for outside direction, the leading healthcare providers in our region have formed an alliance — Healthcare Partners of East Texas Inc.

On May 16, 1994, leaders of the founding Healthcare Partners hospitals travelled throughout East Texas offering a pledge to work together to assure and extend high-quality, cost-effective medical care to the residents of our region. The results of this commitment to cooperation are already apparent with over 100,000 lives now treated by hospital companies contracting with Healthcare Partners of East Texas, making this organization the dominant provider of managed care in the region.

For more information on how you can take advantage of the benefits offered by Healthcare Partners of East Texas Inc., please call:

(903) 535-6951
or 1-800-362-3041