SPECIAL SECTION: MAGNOLIA, OPENING NOVEMBER 17

The Panola County News, Spartanburg, South Carolina, and the Spartanburg Herald-Journal, Spartanburg, South Carolina, are consolidated to become the Spartanburg News and Chronicle. According to the Spartanburg Herald-Journal, "The合并 is expected to yield better service and increased efficiency, and the combined newspaper will be the largest in the state." The Spartanburg News and Chronicle is expected to begin publishing in November 17, 1984.

Fishing off spillway to be banned

The board of managers of the Washington Canal and Spillway Company approved the closure of the spillway to fishing for the 1984 season. The closure is expected to prevent the spread of invasive species and protect the water quality of the spillway. The spillway is the main source of water for the city of Washington and its surrounding areas.

Mariana found concealed in car

A 16-year-old girl was found hiding in a car on Wednesday. The girl had been reported missing on Monday. She had been last seen walking home from school. She was found by a passerby who noticed the car parked near the school and approached it. The passesby discovered the girl hiding in the car and called the police. The girl was taken to the hospital for a medical examination and released to her parents.

Medicaid funding jeopardized by reports

HCFA asked the House to consider eliminating Medicaid funding for non-emergency ambulatory surgery. The House responded by approving a bill that would allow Medicaid funding for non-emergency ambulatory surgery. The bill was signed into law by the governor.

Adams named top producer at agr appreciation banquet

Local producer dedication for 1983 was awarded to Ted Adams of the Donaldson family of Washington County. Adams, who owns a 200-acre farm, was honored for his dedication to agriculture and his contributions to the local community. The award was presented at an agr appreciation banquet.

Water quality worries board

The board of managers of the Washington Canal and Spillway Company approved the closure of the spillway to fishing for the 1984 season. The closure is expected to prevent the spread of invasive species and protect the water quality of the spillway. The spillway is the main source of water for the city of Washington and its surrounding areas.

 scarcely anything to inform the public about dangers and other people who care about it.

"We need a public campaign to involve the public and save something we care about," said one participant. "We need a public campaign to save the spillway, and we need to involve the public in the decision-making process."
FATHER'S DAY

Sunday, June 19

What are fathers made of?

A father is a thing that is formed to endure childhood without an anesthetic.

A father is a thing that grows when it feels good and laughs and shows when it is mixed half to death.

A father never feels entirely worthy of the worship in his child's eyes.

Fathers grow old faster than other people.

While mothers can cry when they think, fathers have to stand there and die inside.

Fathers have many more hearts, as they have to be broken sometimes or no one would know what is inside.

Fathers give daughters away to other men who aren't nearly good enough as they can have grandchildren that are smarter than anybody's.

Fathers fight dragons almost daily.

Fathers are knights in shining armor.

I don't know what fathers go when they die. But I have an idea after a good rest, wherever in he will be a happy usher there to work on.

Happy Father's Day!
