Desire to save lives behind diving team

By LAURA NEYH

The need for heroes in our lives seems to increase as the weeks pass. Heroes are the people who go beyond the call of duty, the people who are willing to put themselves in harm's way for the betterment of others. In Carthage, the heroes are the members of the Carthage Dive Team.

The Dive Team, under the guidance of Coach Lula Heflin, has been training hard this season. They have been working on their skills, both in the pool and in the classroom. They have been learning how to communicate effectively, how to handle stress, and how to work as a team.

"The Dive Team is a great way for our students to learn the value of teamwork," said Coach Heflin. "It's not just about winning, it's about working together to achieve a common goal."

The team is made up of nine members, including four girls and five boys. They have been practicing for over a month, and they are excited to see what the season has in store for them.

"We're looking forward to the upcoming meets," said Senior Sarah Johnson. "I think we can do well this year."

The Dive Team has been working hard to prepare for the season. They have been practicing their dives, their synchro routines, and their turns. They have been getting plenty of rest, eating a healthy diet, and stretching to stay limber.

"We need to be ready for anything," said Senior Ethan Taylor. "We need to be able to adapt to any situation."

The Dive Team has been working with the coaches to improve their skills. They have been learning new dives, new turns, and new moves. They have been working on their strength, their flexibility, and their endurance.

"The coaches are always pushing us to be better," said Senior Emily Davis. "I think we can do great things this season."

The Dive Team is looking forward to the season. They are excited to see what they can accomplish. They are excited to work together as a team, to communicate effectively, and to help each other succeed.

"We're going to be a great team this year," said Junior Max Martinez. "I think we can win some meets."

The Dive Team is a great example of how hard work and commitment can lead to success. They are a great team of heroes, working together to achieve a common goal.
Minority high priority for new chairman

The new chairman of the Texas House Appropriations Committee, Rep. Ronnie White, D-Dallas, has made minority concerns a top priority for his committee.

White is the only African American on the committee, which is divided into two subcommittees. The committee last week approved a $50 million surplus in its budget, which will be passed on to the House of Representatives.

White said he is determined to make sure that the interests of his constituents are taken into account in the budget process. "I want to make sure that we have a committee that is responsive to all Texans," he said. "I believe that the interests of minority communities are just as important as those of any other group."
